ALABAMA MOB AWES TROOPS, STORMS JAIL, HANGS NEGRO

Exploit of Enraged Georgians at Statesboro Duplicated by Maddened Citizens at Huntsville, Ala.

MILITIA POWERLESS TO SAVE THE NEGRO FROM BLOOD AVENGERS

Mob Broke Into the Ground Floor of the Jail, Smoked Out the Troops and Sheriff and Got the Negro Who Had Murdered and Robbed White Peddler.

Huntsville, Ala., September 7.—(Special.)—After a battle with the militia in which the soldiers were defeated, a mob took Horace Maples, the negro who murdered John Waldrop, an aged white man, from the jail here tonight and hanged him.

The negro was arrested this morning and lodged in jail. Feeling ran high against the negro, and Acting Governor Cuningham ordered out troops to prevent a lynching.

The troops took possession of the jail and posted sentries about the building.

Tonight a great crowd rushed on the sentries, disarmed them and then attacked the jail.

The mob succeeded in breaking into the ground floor of the jail and the troops and the sheriff retreated to the upper floor, where the negro was confined.

The leaders of the mob then proceeded to deliberately smoke out the sheriff and the soldiers.

At 10:25 the jail was fired in the back part, burning fiercely, a dense smoke spreading through the upper stories and cells of the building. The fire department was not allowed to approach within a block of the scene and was driven away with bullets. The crowd on the outside would allow nobody to enter or come out until the person of Horace Maples was surrendered to the crowd. The sheriff and his guards would not give in, but in some manner the negro got through a window and jumped into the crowd. He was chased down and a rope thrown around his neck and he was pulled up to the county court house. There was an immense crowd on the lawn.

While Maples was confessing his crime and implicating a white man and two more negroes, John H. Wallace, Jr., and Solicitor Erle Pettus delivered impassioned addresses trying to dissuade the mob. They were hooted down in turn, but finally, when Solicitor Pettus called on all who were in favor of the law taking its course to hold up their hands, about half in the big crowd of several thousand did so. There was cheering for a moment, but the men with the rope pulled the negro away, then put the end of the rope to a limb and drew up. The negro was dead in a few moments. A crowd will make an effort to capture the negro's accomplices, but no disorder is feared tonight.

During the attack on the jail United States District Judge Shelby caused an order for United States deputy marshal to protect United States prisoners in the burning building and obtain names of all parties engaged in endangering the prisoners' lives.

The grand jury specially empannelled to investigate the Waldrop murder had reported a true bill against Horace Maples, charging murder in the first degree. The local militia company was in the jail and Governor Cunningham had ordered more soldiers from Birmingham, Scottsboro and Decatur.

Judge Speake had also called a special term of court to try the negro, but the haste made by the legal authorities did not allay the mob spirit.

THEY ARE LOOKING FOR NEGRO.

Who Attempted to Assault a Young White Girl.

Columbia, S. C., September 7. (Special.)—Yesterday morning in the mountain resort of Brevard, N. C., an attempt was made to assault a 13-year old girl, said to be the daughter of a prominent sugar broker of New Orleans, who, with her aunt and uncle, who live in Mobile, Ala., is staying at a Brevard boarding house. Search for the negro was immediately begun and a negro was brought in, but the girl said that he was not the man. A few hours later a second negro was captured who tallied with her description in general and the girl identified him, but not positively. Meanwhile suspicion rests on a negro who recently came to Brevard from South Carolina, and searchers are looking for him. The negro under arrest may be tried by the court now in session.

GREAT BATTLE NOW RAGING BEFORE WALLS OF MUKDEN

FIERCE FIGHTING AT PORT ARTHUR

Siegers and Defenders Grapple Hand To Hand.

Japs Turned Chinese Houses Into Redoubts and Beat Off Charge of Russian Regiment, Being Forced Back into Their Defenses.

Chefoo, September 7.—Firing was heard here indistinctly tonight. A steamship which passed Port Arthur last night reports that she heard no firing from the Russian stronghold.

A copy of The Port Arthur Novi Krai, dated August 31, published detached incidents of the fighting of August 29 and 30, on the Russian east flank. On the evening of the 29th, the Japanese opened a heavy fire from fort Number 3 and other points, directing their largest guns chiefly at the Russian positions on a hill, called the Small Eagle's Nest. At Asniyen, the Japanese removed the roofs of a number of Chinese houses, strongly constructed of mud and stone, and converted them into excellent redoubts. At 9 o'clock on the evening of the 29th a Russian regiment made a sudden onslaught on the Japanese troops and at the point of the bayonet the Japanese were forced to the redoubts. The Russians were unable to proceed further than this redoubt because of the firce fire poured in on them by the Japanese. According to comment made by Novi Krai, this redoubt evidently had been greatly strengthened during the previous night. On the east flank the remainder of the night was quiet. Nothing occurred on the west flank during the night of the 29th. A Japanese torpedo boat recently fired on Tiger's Tail fort. She was found by searchlights and repulsed by Russian batteries. She apeared to be somewhat damaged.

Chefoo, September 7.—It is now apparent that the heavy fighting reported by numerous Chinese refugees as having occurred before Port Arthur, between August 27 and 31, occurred chiefly on the first two days mentioned, the Japanese thereafter directing their efforts almost entirely to holding the positions they had obtained. That these positions were of considerable importance is evidenced by the fact that the Russians risked the lives of valuable men in open fight in their efforts to dislodge the Japanese from them. As has been previously reported in these dispatches, the Japanese troops retired from nearly all points on the night of August 31.

GUNS AND AMMUNATION TAKEN BY JAPANESE

Tokio, September 7.—Official reports of the subsequent movement of General Kuropatkin have been received, but The Kokumin says it learns on good authority that Kuroki, after taking the heights near Heiyintai, about 15 miles northeast of Liao-Yang, occupied a line from Yentai to the mines by hot pursuit of the Russians, September 4 and 5. The Russians who were said to be concentrated 20 miles north of Liao-Yang are now retreating in the direction of Mukden. The pursuit was obstructed by the high millet. The Russians destroyed their stores but numbers of guns and quantities of ammunition and other supplies were captured.

The Nichi-Nichi says it thinks the Japanese casualties may exceed that of the Russians owing to the latter having occupied fortified positions in superior numbers.

The mikado has congratulated the forces on their brilliant victory in the face of tremendous difficulties, adding that the end of the war is still in the distant future and exhorting care and patience.

Preliminary regulations for the national guard were gazetted today. The report that the Russians have occupied Sinmintin, about 30 miles west of Mukden, is denied. A large force of Chinese bandits is displaying activity in the vicinity of Sinmintin, but it is supposed that the Russians will not take action unless compelled to do so.

BELIEVE ARMY NOW IN SAFETY

Russian War Office Thinks Disaster Averted.

Not Known Whether or Not Attempt Will Be Made to Hold Mukden. Probable That Kuropatkin Will Make Stand at Tioling.

St. Petersburg, September 8, 2:02 a. m.—The general staff is not displaying great anxiety over the alrmist reports that General Kuropatkin is in serious danger of being cut off, but if they had any information from the front Wednesday they have not revealed it. The members also decline to say, even if they know, whether General Kuropatkin purposes taking his army north of Mudken.

An officer of the general staff said to the Associated Press Wednesday night:

"I believe it is safe to say that General Kuropatkin's army is now out of danger. Our advices since Monday indicate that the fighting is of an insignificant character, and I do not believe the tired Japanese troops are capable of seriously threatening the line of retreat. The greatest difficulty our army is now having to contend is the terrible roads resulting from the rains of Monday and Tuesday.

"Our information is that the bulk of the baggage has already passed through Mudken. This is the usual procedure in the case of any retreat."

Kuropatkin's movements, after all, must depend chiefly upon the tactics of the Japanese, with whom lies the initiative. If the Japanese continue to press north in the hope of cutting off the Russians and bringing them to bay, then Kuropatkin will be obliged to move north to circumvent them.

"But both armies are already terribly exhausted, and if they again come into grip the result will depend largely upon which of them is able to throw the most fresh reserves into the fight."

If there is a race northward, it is apparent that the greatest danger will come at the narrow defile of Tichling, north of Mudken, but the authorities seem fairly well satisfied with the situation and are confident of its ultimate outcome.

SLEW WIFE AND HIMSELF TO SAVE SEVEN PER WEEK

CHICAGO, September 7.—Rather than pay his wife, from whom he had been separated, $7 a week as ordered by court, Joseph Regnet, a porter employed in the wholesale store of Marshall Field & Company, tonight shot and killed her and then committed suicide. Regnet was notified today of the decision of the court.

CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER

Prominent Man Is Arrested. Jail Guarded To Prevent Lynching.

Charlotte, Va., September 7.—Ex-Mayor J. Samuel McCue was arrested this afternoon on the charge of wilfully and premeditatedly murdering his wife on the night of Sunday, September 4. The arrest was made while citizens generally were attending the public session of the coroner's jury, which had returned no verdict at midnight.

The warrant was sworn out by Special Police Justice A. D. Dabney and served by two policemen of the city. Mr. McCue made no resistance and is now in the city jail. When McCue was arrested he submitted to being searched by the officers and kissed his four children goodby. He said to them:

"By the grace of God, I will come out of this trouble all right."

McCue stated that he was assaulted and his wife murdered on last Sunday night. His story immediately aroused suspicion. His testimony, and that of others, before the coroner's jury strengthened the suspicion against him, and the arrest followed.

Crowds are gathering in the city tonight, but no mob violence is feared. The city militia being absent from the city at the army maneuvers at Manassas, a special jail guard of thirty men was summoned.

COLLEGE BOYS ON A STRIKE

They Demand Restoration of Privileges Taken From Them.

Raleigh, N. C., September 7.—State Agricultural and Mechanical college here is in danger of being disrupted by the threatened departure of over 150 students, who yesterday signed agreements to leave the college unless privileges recently taken away from the senior class are restored and four seniors, who were expelled, are reinstated.

The senior class was not permitted last night to either eat or sleep at the college. Work has stopped and both faculty and student body are unyielding.

No Reinstatement Granted.

Chicago, September 7.—All applications for the reinstatement of persons and horses who had participated in the recent meeting of the Union Park Jockey Club at St. Louis were denied by the board of stewards of the Western Jockey Club at their regular monthly meeting held here today. The same action was taken by the stewards in all the applications for reinstatement of those who took part in the racing at Newport last winter. The application of the new Memphis Jockey Club for fall racing dates was withdrawn.

Two Killed in Wreck.

Altoona, Pa., September 7.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Horse Shoe curve of the Pennsylvania railroad late tonight, in which two men were killed and three seriously injured. Thirty-five cars were demolished. The crew lost control of the train. All telephone and telegraph wires are down.

First and Seventeenth Russian Corps Engaged With Kuroki's Army.

KUROPATKIN RETREATING FROM MUKDEN TO NORTH

Believed Russians Will Fall Back Further North—Russian War Office Admits Japs Will Dictate Course Kuropatkin Must Follow.

PARIS, SEPTEMBER 8.—THE ST. PETERSBURG CORRESPONDENT OF THE ECHO DE PARIS SAYS:

"A GREAT BATTLE IS GOING ON BEFORE MUKDEN. THE FIRST AND SEVENTEENTH CORPS ARE ENGAGED AGAINST GENERAL KUROKI.

GEN. KUROPATKIN, WITH THE BULK OF HIS TROOPS, IS MOVING TOWARDS TIELING."

THERE is no news from the Far East, either from Russian or Japanese sources. For the world-watchers of the great tragedy the curtain has been dropped and all is conjecture. Not even an expression of opinion comes from Japanese sources, but from St. Petersburg it is indicated that the authorities are confident the critical stage of the Russian retreat is past, and that Kuropatkin is no longer in danger of losing any part of his forces to the pursuing Japanese.

The Russian commander has arrived at Mukden, and it is given out in St. Petersburg that the bulk of his army is now near there, while a dispatch from Mukden to the Associated Press, filed Tuesday, says that the main Russian army is pushing northward and evacuating that place.

It is indicated that the Japanese are still harrassing the Russian rear. Further than this nothing is known. An absolute news silence prevails.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 7. General Kuropatkin has arrived at the town of Mukden and the bulk of the Russian-Manchurian army is near that place, where it now appears General Kuropatkin has been since Monday. His troops, it is understood, while not entering the city, are taking up prepared positions around Mukden. While there is no specific information on this point, the general staff believes that only a small rear guard is in the neighborhood of Yentai. No further fighting of importance is expected south of Mukden. The critical stage is regarded as having passed and the announcement was made this afternoon that the war office will no longer give out two bulletins each day.

TOKIO, September 7.—The general staff has not yet made public any details of the battle of Liao-Yang. The people are still celebrating the victory, but there is considerable speculation over the official silence regarding General Kuroki's movements since Sunday.

It is reported that the Japanese notwithstanding the ravages of fire, captured vast accumulations of Russian stores and ammunition at Liao-Yang.

The report that Lieutenant Teraouchi, son of Lieutenant General Teraouchi, minister of war, was killed before Liao-Yang is denied today.

MUKDEN, Tuesday, September 6.—Delayed.—Part of the Russian army which is coming to Mukden by wagon road is in danger of being cut off.

All day and night Monday the Japanese in the hills of the eastern roads shelled the Russian troops. In one instance the Japanese infantry attacked a large force of Russian infantry and artillery which had taken to the hills, running parallel to the Japanese in protecting the flank of the army. The troops, guns and transports are pouring into Mukden by train and road. Considerable transport was left behind. The roads are in a frightful state, owing to the heavy rain Monday. The Russian army pushing northward is evacuating Mukden.

RUSSIAN FOURS DROP ANOTHER QUARTER POINT

St. Petersburg, September 7.—Prices on the bourse were still weaker today. Russian 4s dropped another 1-4 of a point, to 91½.

SLEW HIS WIFE THEN HIMSELF

Neal Had Killed Man Over His Wife.

Killing and Suicide Done in Louisville Boarding House by Man Indicted for Murder—Killing of Schroder caused by Domestic Trouble.

Louisville, Ky., September 7.—William E. Neal, under indictment for the murder of Assistant Commonwealth Attorney James K. Shrader, today shot and killed his wife, Nellie Robinson Neal, and then ended his own life. The tragedy occurred in a boarding house on west Broadway, where Neal and his wife had been living since Sunday, as Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. J. C. Baird, the landlady, said

"The couple came to my house Sunday and paid for two days board. They acted in a peculiar manner.

"Mrs. Neal had been complaining of being ill. She came down today looking haggard and worn, saying her husband was too ill to come to the table. She wanted to take him a light lunch My daughter was in the adjoining room, when she heard them talking in whispers. A silence ensued. One shot rang out and soon another. The interval was short."

Mrs. Neal was Nellie Robinson, daughter of Professor William Robinson, of Hopkinsville, Ky.

TWO RECEIVERS FOR ROUND BALE

American Cotton Company in Hands of New Jersey Courts.

Trenton, N. J., September 7.—Chancellor Magie today appointed Charles E. Kimball, of Summit, N. J., and Wm. C. Lansing, of Staunton, Mass., receivers for the American Cotton Company.

The application was made by Frederick Y. Robinson, of New York, vice president and treasurer of the company, who in his petition states that the company's indebtedness, exclusive of a bonded indebtedness of $2,000,000 is $1,327,000, made up largely of bills payable, a greater portion of which is now overdue or about to mature.

The American Cotton Company was organized in 1896 with a capital stock of $7,000,000.

GEORGIA TROOPS MAKE CAPTURES

Maryland and New York Regiments Taken.

In One Skirmish First Georgia Lost Colors, But by Brilliant Dash Company D, Under Captain Coart, Retook the Flag.

Camp No. 1, Manassas, Va., September 7.—(Special.)—The Georgia troops returned from the second day's battle this afternoon after a hard and victorious fight. The first provisional Georgia regiment captured two regiments of the Brown army, a Maryland and a New York regiment, although they were outnumbered.

A prominent maneuver officer paid the Georgia boys a high compliment after the battle, stating that they had marched farther than any troop on the battlefield and looked none the worse for it. They went through, during the two days of battle, very exhaustive duty and it is wonderful the way they stood up through it.

Tired, hungry and thirsty, they fought like their forefathers of '61, never faltering. Had the battle been a real one instead of a sham battle, the boys would have fought just as eagerly and bravely.

The browns captured the colors of the First provisional Georgia regiment, but in a few minutes afterwards Captain Coart's company D made their way to the firing line and recaptured them, retreating without losing a man.

During last night company D acted as headquarters guard for General Grant at division headquarters. The remainder of the First Georgia boys pitched tents for the night at Dougans branch, near Stone House.

The Second regiment, of which the Atlanta boys form a part, fought with the browns against their fellow-state soldiers and put up a great fight. The Savannah boys are also with the browns. The second problem will be worked out tomorrow.

Orders have just been received at the First Georgia headquarters to be ready to move at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. The blues will be the defensive army in the next problem.

First Problem Closed.

The first manoeuver problem closed at noon today when General Grant's force pushed through the left wing of General Bell. This put the blue force within 2 miles of Thoroughfare Gap, the objective point. However, General Bell had Smith's brigade on the right and Barry's brigade on the left of this breach in his line, and Colonel Wagner, chief umpire, draws no conclusion as to what might happen had not hostilities ceased under the command previously issued by General Corbin to cease hostilities at noon so that the tired troops might be given relief. This attack on the part of the blue force was made by General Wint with Price's brigade, consisting of the Seventieth Virginia, the First Maine, the First Alabama and the Sixteenth Infantry. Previous to this there had been severe fighting on the line to which Gen-

REFUSE TO TELL ABOUT MEETING

Spinners Meet at Charlotte for Conference.

There Were Twenty-Four of Them at the Meeting, But When Asked What Was Done They All Were Very Reticent.

Charlotte, N. C., September 7.—Hosiery yarn manufacturers, representing 285,000 of the 400,000 spindles engaged on that line of goods in the south, held what was said to be an important secret conference here today. They held two sessions lasting the greater part of the day and after adjournment it was given out that there was nothing for the public in the proceedings; that several resolutions had been passed and the situation discussed, but nothing else about the meeting could be secured from any of the twenty-four men in attendance.

One of the resolutions looked to the fixing of the tare at a figure between 5 and 10 pounds to the case of yarn.

Samuel A. Carter, of Atlanta, was chosen chairman and J. F. Taylor, of Kinston, secretary..

The principal feature of the meeting to those on the outside is the reticence of those concerned, which is quite unusual. An Alabama manufacturer, when asked what was done, volunteered the information that the conference had done absolutely nothing, and Mr. Taylor, the secretary, said the meeting was entirely informal and had no connection whatever with any organization. It was called by six or eight prominent spinners, who, along with many others, realized the necessity of concerted action and took upon themselves the responsibility of calling the meeting. The meeting, said Mr. Taylor, was for the purpose of discussing the situation and getting on a better working basis. The outlook, he said, is more favorable, if the present cotton crop can be kept out of the hands of the speculators. If the crop should prove to be more than 11,000,000 bales, the spinners believe the speculators will hardly be able to manipulate it.

One of the most prominent men attending the meeting is R. S. Reinhardt, of Lincolnton, president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Reinhardt does not see anything particularly encouraging in the outlook and thinks it is up to the spinners to do something for the benefit. "Yarns continue to sell at low prices," he said, "and cotton fails to decline, despite the fact that the season for lower prices has arrived."

"Won't the price decline when the crop begins to come in?" asked the reporter.

"It ought to, but it does not," replied Mr. Reinhardt.

From interviews with various spinners who are attending the meeting the reporter learned that the curtailment of production since May would aggregate 25 per cent of the southern spindles running on hosiery yarns.

Gaffney Carpet Mill Sold.

Gaffney, S. C., September 7. (Special.)—The Gaffney Carpet Manufacturing company was sold here yesterday by the receiver for $34,276. J. A. Carroll, of this place, bought the real estate, 30 acres, the mill buildings, boilers, engines and electric plant for $14,625. The machinery and all stock on hand was bought by W. Sykes, of Philadelphia, for $19,651. It is not known yet what disposition will be made of the property. The capital stock was about $75,000.

REGULAR CAVALRYMAN WOUNDED BY GUN WAD

Gainesville, Va., September 7.—The first serious casualty of the maneuvers occurred today. Private Williams, of the Seventh cavalry, a member of the "Brown" army, was shot in the right lung with a wad from a blank cartridge. The shot was fired by a soldier in a Tennessee regiment at short range, and was purely accidental and incident to the maneuver. It is thought the wounded man will recover.

eral Bell had fallen back during the night.

General Grant occupied the hours between midnight and daylight in concentrating his forces for an attack on the brown left. His artillery was so well placed that it had unobstructed play for an hour on the brown line.

Every spectacular feature of a battle in full progress was produced in the maneuvers today and the field was viewed from near and far by many spectators.

Militia Showed Inexperience.

The militia troops displayed the usual disadvantage of inexperience in the field. Many of them ate their two days' rations the first day and went hungry today. The regulars set them a good example in this respect, dividing their supplies equally between the two days.

Complaint of depredations by militiamen came to headquarters today from Wellington, where it was claimed that the First South Carolina regiment had cleaned out a provision store absolutely. The loss will be reimbursed to the proprietor and the amount deducted from the pay of this regiment. General Corbin and both division commanders unite in praising the conduct of the militia.

A daring attempt was made last night to capture General Bell in his headquarters at Thoroughfare. The capture was not made, because General Bell heard of the plan and literally took up his bed and walked. He secreted himself in a farm house near by and slept till morning. The capture was planned by a scouting party.

It is estimated by army officers that the casualties during the two days of fighting have depleted the blue army by 1,800 men and the brown from 1,500 to 1,800.

Blount, of Macon, Badly Injured.

Camp No. 1, Manassas, Va., September 7.—(Special.)—John Blount, of Macon, traveling passenger agent of the Central of Georgia raillway, fell from his horse this morning near Thoroughfare Gap while reviewing the maneuvers, breaking his right arm in two places. The horse fell on him and badly crushed his left leg.

He was given medical attention and sent home this afternoon.

SMITH CONFESSES TO FORGERY.

Man Wanted in Indiana Captured in Birmingham.

Montgomery, Ala., September 7.—(Special.)—After a chase from Sullivan, Ind., which began in June, Postoffice Inspector R. M. C. Hosford caught Harry M. Smith, wanted for forging an indorsement to a money order, here this afternoon. Smith says he will go back to Indiana without papers and confesses the forgery.

Smith, whose initials are H. M., was in Sullivan June 11 last and asked for mail. He was given a number of letters for H. Nelson Smith, a traveling man from Indianapolis, and in one was a money order for $15.00. It is charged, and he admits, that he forged the name of H. N. Smith and secured the money from a merchant named Woods.

COUNTY EXHIBITS AT STATE FAIR

Manager Calvin Says There Will Be Fine Ones.

Increase of Premiums in Live Stock Department—Old Landmark to Be Destroyed—Discussing Proposed Change in Police System.

Macon, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—In speaking at some length on the prospects of the coming state fair, to be held in Macon during the latter part of October, General Manager Martin Calvin became enthusiastic in his description of the various exhibits which he expects to have displayed here. He says he is almost certain the counties of Camden, Spalding, Bulloch, Appling, Carroll, Bartow, Cobb and Meriwether will have big exhibits at the fair.

The tribute which Mr. Calvin paid to Carroll county's industry was an especially high one, and his description of the county's products shows that at least one county of Georgia will be well represented at the state fair. He says there is produced in this county not less than 600,000 bushels of corn every year, which is nearly twice the yield in corn of any other county of the state, besides about 25,000 bales of cotton, nearly 30,000 bushels of oats, and about 50,000 bushels of wheat.

General Manager Calvin stated that the purpose of the Macon Fair Association was to offer some special inducements for live stock exhibits, and that whereas only $600 in premiums for this department was offered last year, at least $2.250 will be given in premiums for live stock exhibits this year by the directors of the association.

Mrs. V. E. Smith's Death.

Macon, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—The death of Mrs. V. S. Smith from typhoid fever, the wife of one of Macon's well known conductors over the Central, occurred at the city hospital today at 12 o'clock. The funeral service will be held tomorrow at the esidence of the family, 260 Boundary avenue, but the full arrangements for the funeral have nota yet been completed.

MRS. JACKSON WAS SERENADED

Texas Soldiers Stop at Charlotte to Honor Stonewall's Widow.

Raleigh, N. C., September 7.—(Special.) The Texas troops who passed through Charlotte on their way to the manuevers at Manassas stopped there and serenaded Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, the widow of the famous confederate general, who received his title on that historic field. Mrs. Jackson lives in a pretty little cottage, only a few yards from the station of the Southern railway, and she is an object of very special attention and courtesy from northern and southern people alike. She has a sister at Raleigh, Mrs. B. H. Hill, the widow of the officer who was in command of the First regiment of North Carolina volnteers at the first pitched battle of the war at Bethel, Va., in June, 1861, the first confederate killed in action being a member of Colonel Hill's command. Both Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Hill are deeply interested in the Daughters of the Confederacy and are honorary vice presidents. Mrs. Hill is the head of the chapter of Children of the Confederacy, and not infrequently visits the Confederate Soldiers' home at Raleigh. Both ladies are active and in very good health.

Griffin, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Chairman of the county commissioners, W. W. Champion, has gone to Los Angeles, Cal., after a five-year convict who recently escaped from the Spalding county chaingang. The authorities here claim that this must be paid by the state, and Attorney General Hart will be asked for an opinion.

New Haven, Conn., September 7.—In an enthusiastic convention held at the Hyperion theater today the democratic state ticket was placed in nomination as follows:

For Governor—A. Heaton Robertson, of New Haven.

The platform indorses the nomination of Parker and Davis; ratifies and confirms the national platform; demands reciprocity with Canada; declares the last republican administration in Connecticut to have been the most extravagant in the history of the state, and deals with many exclusively state matters.

Hollis Again Nominated.

Concord, N. H., September 7.—For a second time the democrats of New Hampshire today nominated Henry F. Hollis, of Concord, to be their candidate for governor. The state convention was held here and plans made at a caucus last night were fully carried out.

The convention adopted a platform indorsing the national democratic platform and candidates, and named four presidential electors. The convention selected a candidate for governor only, as all other state offices are filled by appointment.

Looks Like Thirty Thousand.

White River Junction, Vt., September 7.—With eleven towns out of 246 cities and towns yet to be heard from, later and revised returns today indicate that the republicans carried the state yesterday by a plurality in the neighbornood of 31,800. This is a republican gain over 1900, when the plurality at the state election was 31,312. The total figures for all but eleven towns give Charles J. Bell, republican, 46,815 for governor, and Eli H. Porter, democrat, 15,979, or a plurality of 30,836 for Mr. Bell.

Republicans Meet in Montana.

STRIKE LEADERS UP AGAINST IT

Vote To Continue Strike Causes Quandary.

Several Orders Were Issued and Countermanded Yesterday by Union Officials in Charge of Meat Strike—No Arbitration.

Chicago, September 7.—Having voted to continue the stock yards struggle until better terms can be secured, the strike leaders tonight are in a quandary as to what the next move will be. When the rest of the vote of the men defeating the proposition to return to work, was announced today, it was stated by the union officials that a second ballot would be ordered at once.

Shortly after this announcement was made, however, the plan was abandoned and efforts were begun to secure another conference with the packers. In this the strikers were unsuccessful, and then a second announcement was made that the order issued last week placing all meat on the unfair list would go into effect tonight.

While arrangements were being made to put this order into effect, it was suddenly discovered by some of the leaders that the allied trades conference board would have to give their consent to the order before it could be enforced and that it would be impossible to put the manifesto into effect tonight as the allied trades conference board would not be able to arrange for a meeting of its members until tomorrow. It was then stated that the central organization would meet tomorrow at 11 o'clock to consider the question.

Following the announcement that the strikers had voted to continue the strike, a meeting, attended by representatives of all the packers, was held at the offices of the National Packing Company. After the meeting it was stated by one of the packers that no opportunity would be given the labor leaders to present a proposition embracing arbitration as was being planned by the strikers.

Return to Work at Omaha.

Omaha, Nebr., September 7.—Two hundred packing house strikers returned to work today as a result of the vote taken yesterday on the question of discontinuing the strike.

Vote to Quit at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth Tex., September 7.—The striking butcher workmen today voted to declare the strike off at the packing plants and return to work under the same conditions that prevailed before the strike was called. The vote was practically unanimous. President Donnelly was notified of the vote.

AUGUSTA'S NEW COTTON MILL.

Financial Arrangements for It Have Been Completed.

Augusta, Ga., September 7. (Special.)—The cotton mill for North Augusta, which was projected some time ago, and the organization of which has been going on in a quiet way, is now an assured fact, and it will not be long before The Herald will be in a position to announce the officers of the company and the site on which the new industry will arise.

The Augusta parties interested in the mill were non committal when seen this morning, but that the manufactory is now assured cannot be doubted, and it only remains for the final organization to be completed and the site purchased. The financial arrangements have all been perfected, and the mill will start out with backing to make it a big success.

The new mill, it is understood, will arrange to handle a finer grade of goods than is put out by the majority of the mills in the south, and is another of the gradual steps taken by this section to remove the cotton cloth industry from its old headquarters in New England to the fields where the raw product grows.

DEATH PROPHECY ON LIPS UNDERWOOD DROPS DEAD

Lebanon, Ky., September 7.—With the prediction that he was about to die still upon his lips, J. D. Underwood, general manager of the Rogers Wheel Company, dropped dead today. Mr. Underwood, who was 55 years old, was apparently in good health. During the day he called up a friend over the telephone and, presumably in response to a question as to his health, remarked that he did not feel well, and believed he was going to die. He had just started to hang up the receiver and turn to his stenographer when he fell over dead.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR THE CHIEFS

Chief Joyner Completes Arrangements For the Convention.

Fire Chief W. R. Joyner, of Atlanta, who is president of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, returned yesterday from Chattanooga, Tenn., where he had been to complete arrangements for the thirty-second annual convention of the association, which meets in that city next week.

Chief Joyner is delighted with the prospects for one of the largest and most valuable conventions the association ever held. Public interest in Chattanooga is thoroughly aroused and the citizens are very enthusiastic over the big meeting. There will be about 600 delegates at the convention, including a number of Canadian and European fire chiefs.

The convention will be called to order in the auditorium at Chattanooga at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, the address of welcome being delivered by Mayor Chambliss. President Joyner will select some prominent fire chief to respond, but this selection has not yet been made.

The people of Chattanooga had been to generously hospitable, President Joyner discovered. He was desirous that as much business as possible be transacted in the four days during the convention will be in session and on this account felt compelled to omit several features of the entertainment planned by the hospitable Chattanoogans. Among these were a trip on the river, a theater party and a dance at Olympic park.

Other arrangements were allowed to stand, however, these including a trip up Lookout mountain, a carriage ride to Chickamauga Park and a barbecue at Olympic park.

However but very llittle time has been allotted to the social features, as President Joyner desired this convention to be a business meeting in every sense of the word.

The exhibits will be unusually fine and already fifteen manufacturers and dealers in fire apparatus and supplies have notified the secretary that they will have exhibits at Chattanooga. In these exhibits will be two makes of steam fire engines, hook and ladder trucks, small and large, hose wagons, chemical engines, a water tower, hose and various other accessories of fire fighting.

The association now includes fire chiefs from all parts of the civilized world, though when it was organized it was a national organization merely. Chief Joyner has been president of the association under both regimes. In 1887 he was president, when the organization was of a national nature and last year at Atlantic City he was elected president of the international organization.

He talks enthusiastically of the approaching convention and thinks the fire chiefs will be long remembered by Chattanooga, while they themselves will long remember the Chattanooga convention.

PARKER RALLY AT AUGUSTA

Senator Clay Invited To Be One of the Speakers and Accepts.

Augusta, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—There will be a big Parker revival in Augusta the latter part of this month. For several weeks there has been a movement on foot to have Senator Clay come here and speak in the interest of the democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees.

It is a generally conceded fact that all of Georgia and particularly this section of the state are thoroughly democratic, but in view of the fact that there is a bare possibility of a few of the misguided ones flying to false gods it has been decided to work up the proper kind of a Parker spirit in this section of the state, at least. Some time the latter part of the month Senator Clay will be in this vicinity and he has agreed to pay Augusta a party call and tell the people just what the democracy of the country need expect, why they expect it and to caution them against flying after glittering tinsel and gaudily painted word pictures of an attempt to revive a thing politically dead.

WOULD-BE LYNCHERS SENT UP

Seven Men at Danville Fined and Sent to Jail.

Danville, Va., September 7.—W. T. Harris, Wicker Armes, Dan H. Talle, Ben F. Pruitt, George O. Mills, R. J. Lynch and Whit Meyers were convicted today in the corporation court of being participants in the mob when an attempt was made several weeks ago to lynch the negro, Roy Seals, charged with murder and confined in the city jail. The men were sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and to serve a term of one day in jail. The men were recently convicted in the mayor's court and the jail sentence fixed at sixty days. The case was appealed to a higher court. The men were marched out of the court room to the prison and will serve the time. They were placed in the same jail with the negro they attempted to lynch.

Dropsy; Skin Diseases.

The person suffering from dropsy should always bear in mind that if the watery elements that go to make this disease ever reach the heart or the lungs death will quickly follow. Dropsy that is allowed to go untreated will finally reach the heart, stop its beating and end the sufferer's agony. This applies to all forms of the disease. No matter whether your form of dropsy is now merely in the feet, legs, hands or abdomen, take warning in time, see a specialist who understands this disease. Dr. J. Newton Hathaway, the eminent practician, constantly has cases of dropsy under treatment, and that he cures them is attested by many letters from grateful patients that he has on file. He is equally successful in curing diseases of the skin, sores, boils, cancers, ulcers, eczema, salt rheum, tetter, acne, blemishes, etc. He does not use the ordinary means of the average doctor, but has a special method of his own that works wonders and brings about permanent results in a marvelously short time. He would be glad to have you call on him and talk the matter over. He makes no charge whatever for examination or advice, and when he undertakes your case you can rest assured that he will cure you. This system of treatment has been developed for Home Use and perfect results are produced, the patient administering it himself under the doctor's direction. This is an especial advantage to out-of-town patients who cannot call in person. These should write the doctor for Self-Examination blanks, booklet, etc., which are sent free. Whether in calling or in writing the address is J. Newton Hathaway, M. D., 33 Inman Bldg., 22 1-2 S. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga. Office hours 8:30 a. m. to 8 p. m Sundays, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Beware of Headache

Miss Blake's headache was an important symptom of the female trouble she suffered. If you have periodical headache you should give it immediate attention, as it is a positive warning of the suffering that is to come. Wine of Cardui will not only cure female weakness, but it will prevent disordered menstruation, bearing down pains and nervousness.

Do not wait until suffering overtakes you. Why not prevent all female diseases before the trouble begins.

Wine of Cardui never fails as a preventive if taken promptly when the first symptoms appear. It never fails to cure uncomplicated female troubles. It never fails to benefit the worst complications to which it is applied. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

WINE OF CARDUI

1619 Addison Ave., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 23, 1903.

For three and a half years I suffered with headache, backache and most distressing bearing down pains. My physician seemed to do his best to help me, but without satisfactory results. He said that it was female trouble and a general breaking down of my system. This winter the pain became intolerable. My legs and my feet pained me and I could hardly walk or stand up. I had to neglect my housework and was in misery all the time. I finally decided to make a change, and as one of the "Ladies' Birthday Almanacs" came to my notice and I read of the cures of Wine of Cardui, I decided to try it. Five bottles changed me from a confirmed invalid to a healthy, happy woman. I am indeed most grateful to you for your splendid medicine.

DEATH STRIKES FAMILY, THOUGH SCATTERED FAR

Tuscaloosa, Ala., September 7. (Special.)—News of a most unusual occurrence has been received here from Providence, Ala., a small town some 20 miles west of Tuscaloosa, in Pickens county. On Friday last Jonathan Richardson, an aged Confederate veteran of 93 years, passed away. A telegram was immediately addressed to his brother, at Baldwin, Miss., requesting his presence at the funeral. The message had hardly been received by the operator, when a message came over the wire announcing the death of Capt. John M. Richardson, the brother to whom the other telegram was addressed, and requesting that he, Jonathan Richardson, come immediately to Baldwin.

Within 6 hours after this telegram was received three others came, one announcing the death of the old family servant, one the death of a little niece and the other the death of a nephew, Julian Richardson, which occurred at Pickensville.

At sunset the next afternoon the 5 were laid to rest, 2 brothers, a niece, a nephew and the old family servant.

MINE WORKERS ARE ENJOINED

From Interfering With Employees of Republic Company.

Birmingham, Ala., September 7.—The Republic Iron and Steel company today filed a petition in the chancery court for an injunction against the officers and members of District No. 20, United Mine Workers of America, restraining them from interfering with the works or employees of the company. A temporary injunction was granted. The injunction is almost identical with that granted by Federal Judge Jones last Saturday, on petition of three other mining corporations. It is the first injunction yet issued against a striking miners' union by the state court.

FATAL DEFEAT GIVEN VASQUEZ

Two Thousand Killed and Four Thousand Wounded.

Great Battle Fought Between Forces of Government and Revolutionists in South American Republic—Report Says Government Won.

Buenos Ayres, September 7.—Two thousand men were killed and 4,000 wounded in the recent battle between the Uruguayan government forces and the revolutionists.

General Vasquez, minister of war, who led the government troops, is asserted to have been defeated and driven back, abandoning arms and ammunition. In a previous battle the revolutionists were driven back and General Vasquez while pressing his victory, was suddenly met by stubborn resistance.

The rebels reassembled their scattered forces and engaged the government troops. For three days the battle raged with terrible losses on both sides.

Gradually the rebels drove Vasquez back and according to last reports, the minister of war was in full retreat. Reports from Paraguay state that the revolutionists there are holding their own.

Government Claims Victory.

The following is an extract from an official dispatch received from President Ordonez, of Uruguay, from General Vasquez, dated Monday:

"On joining the northern division of the army we attacked the revolutionary forces which were well armed and equipped and supplied with artillery. Notwithstanding this we forced them after severe fighting to retire into Brazilian territory. Added to this splendid triumph, the northern division succeeded in placing out of action General Saravia and other rebel leaders. I estimate the casualties of the revolutionists in killed and wounded at 170 officers and over 500 men, they leaving our camp alone 130 dead. I am informed that the rebels estimate their losses at 1,200. The government casualties were: Officers, 11 killed and 53 wounded. Men, 83 killed, 345 wounded nad 34 missing. I have limited this dispatch to actual occurrences without reference to the transcendental importance of the military operations.

ALL NOT AGREED ON ASSOCIATION

Cotton Mill Men Had Difficulty in Organizing.

Definite Action on All Matters Except Permanent Organization Was Deferred Until October Session to Be Held in Charlotte.

Mill men from many of the southern states met at the Piedmont hotel yesterday and perfected an organization to be known as the Southern Colored Goods Weavers' association. Although the sessions held yesterday were executive, it was learned that the organization was not perfected until after a hard fight. It seems that several of the men present were members of the Southern Cotton Spinners association, and were opposed to an organization of the manufacturers of colored goods only.

It was expected that the mill men would take some action in the matter of reducing the running time of the mills for a couple of months. No concerted action was taken yesterday, but the matter was postponed until October 5th, the time of the adjourned meeting, which will convene in Charlotte.

While no action was taken, the men did not hesitate to express themselves on the matter in the lobby of the Piedmont. One man, who seemed to express the general sentiment, said that when the mill men met it developed that most all of them were running on short time or were closed down. Until the price of the raw material is lowered, he said, or the price of the manufactured goods advanced, the mills intend to quit business.

F. O. Moring, of Raleigh, was elected president of the organization, and appointed the following committee to further the interests of the organization and secure representatives from every mill manufacturing colored goods in the south at the adjourned meeting: J. A. Smith, Bessemer City, N. C., chairman; C. W. Johnston, Charlotte, and B. S. Robinson, Haw River, N C.

Although only one resolution was given out for publication, it was learned that resolutions were also adopted making it necessary for every member to be either a president, officer or director of a mill manufacturing colored cotton goods, with sufficient authority to sign the name of the corporation which he represented. This resolution was the matter of a hard fight, but was finally passed. The resolution given to the press was as follows:

"Resolved, That this meeting recommend to the members of this association that final action be taken at an adjourned meeting, to be held at Charlotte, N. C., October 5th, binding its members not to place goods on memoranda, or guarantee prices to their customers. Furthermore, not to allow cancellation of contracts by customers, and that fulfillment of all contracts be rigidly enforced. We also recommend that action be taken on freight allowances, which have grown to be excessive."

It was stated that while the trade in colored cotton goods had been at a standstill, it had improved somewhat during the past 10 days. Several of the mill men had just come from New York, which city they said was filled with southern merchants, buying the town out and getting ready for the biggest business season in the history of the south and west.

Some of the largest colored cotton mills in the country are located in Georgia, and among the representatives of these mills was John W. Chafe, of Augusta. Both Mr. Chafe and President Moring are working hard in the interests of the new organization, and promise that the next meeting in Charlotte, October 5th, will result in great good to the manufacturing interests of the south so far as the colored goods are concerned.

KNIGHTS ELECT OFFICERS TODAY

Will Also Choose Place for Next Meeting.

Sessions Held Yesterday Were Devoted to Hearing Reports and Routine Business—Louisville Won Crack Contest Corps Drill.

San Francisco, September 7.—The grand encampment reconvened today in Golden Gate hall, with Grand Master Stoddard in the chair. The morning and afternoon sessions were devoted to the reading and discussion of the reports of the grand officers and various committees.

The election of officers will occur tomorrow, and it is also expected that a decision will be reached as to the meeting place of the next conclave.

The opening address of welcome was delivered by Governor Pardee, of California, on behalf of the knights of the state, who was followed by Mayor Schmidtz on behalf of the city of San Francisco. The routine of the first meeting consisted of appointing committees to handle the many questions which will come before the body.

The reports of the officers on the current events of the week and also upon the work of the last three years were received and referred to the committees.

The grand masters of the priory of England, Ireland and Wales were present as guests.

Great Drill Corps Contest.

Following the great parade of yesterday, admittedly the finest ever given by the order, the Knights Templars today gathered at Golden Gate park to witness the triennnial competitive exhibition of the crack drill corps.

The competition was between St. Bernard Commandery No. 35 drill corps, of Chicago; Louisville Commandery No. 2, drill corps, of Louisville, Ky.; Malta Commandery No. 21, drill corps, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Ivanhoe Commandery No. 24, drill corps, of Milwaukee, Wis.

The first prize was awarded to the drill corps of Louisville Commandery No. 1.

The second prize went to Ivanhoe Commandery, of Milwaukee, and the third to Malta Commandery, of Binghamton, N. Y.

The regular officers of the United States army acted as judges. The first competing teams to appear was the drill corps of Louisville Commandery No. 2, led by Sir Knight Frank Fehr.

Kentucky Girls Cheered Victors.

They were met and greeted by twenty pretty Kentucky girls, who waved scarfs of white and black and scattered flowers along the path which they hoped would lead to victory. The men were in excellent form and to the sweet strains of "Dixie" executed the specified evolutions, and several extra movements, apparently without flaw. Then came Malta Commandery, of Binghamton, N. Y., under command of Sir Knight A. W. F. Buck. Their work, to the layman, also seemed perfect, giving evidence of long training and close attention to detail.

Then, headed by the California band, with its imposing drum major, thirty-five men of the St. Barnard commandery, of Chicago, directed by Sir Knight Frank C. Roundick, marched to the front in single file, presenting a mathematically straight line.

PROMISE TO BE GOOD YOUTHS.

Organiaztion of Club by Boys of Cordele.

Cordele, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Something unusual and original has been started among the small boys of Cordele. It is an organization known as the "Coming Men's Club," and draws its membership from among lads under 13 years of age.

To be eligible for membership in the club there are a good many things that the youths must not do. Here are some of them:

Members must not smoke cigarettes, chew tobacco, use profanity, keep bad company, keep late hours, tell falsehoods, be unkind to dumb animals, be disrespectful to aged people, or be disobedient to parents.

There are other minor requirements, all of which are to be firmly enforced by the laws governing the organization.

The first business meeting was held late yesterday at the residence of Dr. W. J. Elliott, where a room has been fitted up for the use of the boys. Eight charter members took the pledge of obedience to the tenets of the organization. They are Walter Elliott, Cecil Hamilton, Willie Hamilton, Nelson Shipp, T. H Johnson, Walter Heirs, Robert Turner, John Turner and Seab amilton.

The officers are: President, Walter Heirs; secretary, T. H. Johnson; treasurer, Willie Hamilton; executive committee, Nelson Shipp, Seab Hamilton, Walter Elliott and Cecil Hamilton.

The club meets every Friday night when applications will be passed on and new members initiated.

WAS A GRETNA GREEN AFFAIR.

Wedding of E. D. Gilmer and Miss Exie Cooper.

Opelika, Ala., September 7.—(Special.)—The marriage, at Girard, on Saturday evening of E. D. Gilmer and Miss Exie Cooper, proves to have been a runaway wedding. They are resisidents of Notasulga, and were in this city today on their way home. The wedding was opposed by the parents, particularly of the young lady, because of the youth of both the bride and the groom, the former being but 16 and the groom but 18 years of age. They, therefore, planned to run away and get married, and an opportunity was offered in the all-day singing at Notasulga Saturday. They went to the singing, then from there took the train for Opelika and Columbus, crossing to Girard to be married by Justice B. J. King at 7:30 o'clock. Learning that they were forgiven, the young couple returned today to their home on a plantation near Notasulga.

There came near being another runaway marriage in Lee county last Sunday. Ernest Newman, of Opelika, aged 17, and Miss Mary Elliott, aged 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Elliott, of Aubrey. The plan became known to the girl's parents and they endeavored to get her to postpone the wedding until they were of age or at any rate, for a year. But this they refused to do, and were, with difficulty, persuaded to wait until next Sunday in order that some preparations might be made. They will be married at the home of the bride's parents next Sunday at 3:30 p. m.

GRATEFUL, HAPPY WOMEN

Thank Pe-ru-na for Their Recovery After Years of Suffering.

Mrs. Maria Ducharme, of Montreal, Can., who has been a great sufferer for years, writes a grateful and gracious letter as follows:

"I am satisfied that thousands of women suffer with troubles peculiar to their sex because they do not realize how bad they really need treatment and feel a natural delicacy in consulting a physician.

"I felt badly for years, had terrible pains at times and was unable to attend to my daily duties. I tried, with douches and washes to cure myself, but finally my attenion was called to an advertisement of Peruna of a case similar to mine, and I decided to give it a trial. My improvement began as soon as I started to use Peruna and soon I was a well woman. I feel that I owe my life and my health to your wonderful medicine and greatly acknowledge this fact."—Miss Maria Ducharme.

Female Weakness Is Pelvic Catarrh.

Always Half Sick Are the Women Who Have Pelvic Catarrh.

Cartarrh of any organ, if allowed to progress will affect the whole body. Catarrh without nervousness is very rare, but pelvic catarrh and nervousness go hand in hand.

What is so distressing a sight as a poor half-sick, nervous woman, suffering from the many almost unbearable symptoms of pelvic catarrh? She does not consider herself ill enough to go to bed, but she is far from being able to do her work without the greatest exhaustion. This is a very common sight and is almost always due to pelvic catarrh.

It is worse than foolish for so many women to suffer year after year with a disease that can be permanently cured.

Peruna cures catarrh permanently. It cures old chronic cases as well as a slight attack, the only difference being in the length of time that it should be taken to effect a cure.

Peruna cures catarrh of the pelvic organs with the same surety as it cures catarrh of the head. Peruna has become renowned as a positive cure for female ailments simply because the ailments are mostly due to catarrh. Catarrh is the cause of the trouble. Peruna cures the catarrh. The symptoms disappear.

Noted Women Who Use Pe-ru-na.

Belva Lockwood, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Lucy Clarke, Farmington, Utah, Vice President Utah State Council of Women; Mrs. Verona E. Roach, wife of late Senator Roach, of Larimore, N. Marsh, President Woman's Benevolent Association, 237 Jackson Park Terrace, Chicago, Ills.; Mrs. Bobb-Maher, Attorney-at-Law, of Kansas City, Kan.; Mrs. Col. Hamilton, Columbus, Ohio, and hundreds of others equally prominent.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

CHILD KILLED BY TROLLEY CAR

Father of the Unfortunate Little One Attacked Motorman.

Savannah, Ga., September 7.—(Special.) In sight of its father and mother, Henry Rosenbaum, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Rosenbaum, was run down and killed by a West End car of the Savannah Electric Company this morning, on Broughton street. As the little boy disappeared under the car the father of the child leaped upon the motorman and beat him as he, with brakes set, stared horror-stricken and oblivious to the onset of the bereaved father.

The motorman's name is J. C. Wright. The conductor of the car was J. B. Morris. Seeing that Wright would probably be seriously harmed by Rosenbaum, who, with one hand twisted in the motorman's hair, beat him with the other, Morris jumped for the pair and tried to separate them. His efforts were ineffectual and it required the efforts of others before the maddened father could be separated from the victim of his wrath.

The child was crushed terribly about the middle and seemed but a misshapen mass of humanity.

Prohibition Fight in Spalding.

Griffin, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Sam Small, of Atlanta, delivered two prohibition speeches last Sunday and Monday here. Sam Jones, the great evangelist of Cartersville, will speak for the prohibition side tomorrow at 11 o'clock. The election comes off Monday and, with the exception of some of the remarks of the various orators, the contest has been remarkably free from that bitterness usually engendered by such elections. Both sides are claiming the county by large majorities and the result seems in doubt. The heaviest vote ever cast in Spalding county is sure and effective work is being done by those who favor the sale and those who oppose it.

"Editor Constitution: We notice in the afternoon papers the date set by a mass meeting of the fifth ward—September 12—does not meet the approval of all candidates. We, therefore, call another meeting for Friday night, September 9, inviting all candidates and their friends to be present. The meeting will be held in Judge Puckett's court room at 8 o'clock p. m.

NO ATLANTA DAY AT WORLD'S FAIR

Council Received Invitation But Took No Action.

Drum Corps, However, May Go to St. Louis for Georgia Day—Special Registration for City Bonds—Many Other Matters Passed.

There will be no Atlanta day at the St. Louis exposition. This was settled yesterday when the message of Mayor Howell conveying the invitation of President David R. Francis, to council, was read and received with silence.

Mayor Howell's message merely submitted the facts in regard to the matter along with the correspondence which included the invitation from President Francis and a letter from Governor Terrell asking for the Firemen's Drum corps at St. Louis on Georgia day. The invitation suggested that Atlanta day be fixed on September 29, immediately following Georgia day. Mayor Howell's message also called attention to the fact that Atlanta was the only southern city which had been honored by such an invitation.

When the message had been read there was silence for a moment; no member seemed inclined to take the initiative. Finally Councilman Terrell moved "that the Firemen's Drum corps be permitted to visit St. Louis and take part in the Georgia day exercises."

This motion was put and carried, then here was silence for another minute, and Mayor Pro Tem. Longino proceeded to the next business.

Council's action, or lack of action, means that there will be no Atlanta day at St. Louis. It was suggested that the attitude of the exposition officials regarding the Atlanta building might have had something to do with the attitude of council. It is the opinion that Atlanta will be well represented by the drum corps, as it advertises the city wherever it goes.

Special Bond Registration.

Council adopted an ordinance providing for special registration of city bonds which are deposited by national banks with the United States treasury as security for additional currency issues. The United States law provides that city bonds which are accepted as security for such currency issues must be registered in the name of the treasurer of the United States, and that they should be specially stamped as the property of the United States.

To Lease Lakewood.

Council adopted a resolution submitted by the committee on public buildings and grounds providing that Lakewood park be advertised for lease for a period of five years to the highest bidder. This action was taken on account of the unsatisfactory results which the city has secured from this property.

The report og City Bacteriologist H. F. Harris on the analysis of the city water, which has already been published in The Constitution, was read and ordered filed.

Magnolia Street Bridge.

Council adopted the report of the bridge committee awarding the contract for the construction of the Magnolia street bridge to the Baltimore Ferro-Concrete Company for the sum of $15,750, the company to give a bond in the full sum of the cost of the bridge to maintain it for a period of two years.

The resolution appropriating $975 for painting the Whitehall, Forsyth and Mitchell street viaducts was also passed.

Maternity Ward Rules.

Some new rules, prepared for the government of the maternity ward in the Grady hospital, were read and referred to the committee on hospitals and charities. The object of these new rules is especially to prevent the use of the maternity ward by patients who are unworthy and by non-residents who are not entitled to the benefits of the hospital.

Mayor Pro Tem Longino said out of fifteen cases recently taken care of in the maternity ward at the Grady hospital, only one of them was respectable.

A petition from the Southern Real Estate Improvement Company, asking the city to grade cut at once such portion of Fifteenth street as may be necessary to lay a water main between the two Peachtrees, was referred to the committee on streets.

Signs for Streets.

Final action was taken with regard to putting up street signs all over the city. Under this resolution the contract for putting up 3,000 blue and white enamel street signs, at a cost of a fraction more than 30 cents each, will be given to the Bennett Printing and Sign Company.

Alderman Harwell's resolution revoking the contract with the parties who use the Whitehall street viaduct for advertising purposes, and requiring that all advertising signs on the viaduct be painted out as the contracts expire, was adopted.

A resolution proposing to reduce the circus tax on the two shows that are coming to Atlanta within the next few weeks, from $500 to $300 a day, was ruled out on a point of order. It was held that the ordinance fixing the tax at $500 a day could not be suspended or temporarily changed by resolution.

Wants to Sell Pools.

There was a request for immediate action on the petition of Fred Linnell and others regarding a lease of Piedmont park for a fifteen days' horse racing meet. The petition stated that the parties interested would be glad to lease Piedmont park for fifteen days of horse racing providing the city would permit the sale of liquor and the sale of pools on the races at the track, otherwise it was made apparent that the parties interested would not want the track even for fifteen days. An ordinance was introduced along with the petition, granting the permission asked, and it was stated that the sale of liquor and pools was permitted during the fair last year.

The request for immediate action was not heeded, however, and council referred the whole matter to the police committee.

Salary of Assessors.

Council passed a resolution increasing the salary of each of the city assessors to $200 a month from September 1, 1904, and appropriating $600 to pay the increase for the current year.

Contractors Donaldson & Pearson were granted permission to close up the street and sidewalk on Peachtree street during the construction of the stone work of the new First Bapitst church at Peachtree and Cain streets. It was provided, however, that no advertising signs or bills should be placed upon the fence.

Councilman Hilburn introduced an ordinance which went to the ordinance committee, providing for an extension of the liquor limits so as to take in the block bounded by Hunter, Madison avenue, Mitchell and Forsyth streets.

CIVIL SERVICE FOR THE POLICE

Special Committee Reports New Legislation For Police Department.

The special committee appointed by council to consider the situation in the police department and recommend such legislation as it might consider proper, yesterday made its report to council.

The committee recommended favorably the ordinance of Councilman Hilburn, which seeks to make the chief of police, chief in fact, and recommended adversely the resolution of Alderman Girardeau on the same subject on account of its criticism of the police board.

In addition to a new ordinance, amplifying the present ordinance against police commissioners succeeding themselves, the committee recommended the passage of a resolution providing that all the officers and members of the police department shall be elected and shall serve under civil service rules; that they shall be elected without a term and shall serve during good behavior.

This civil service resolution is an entirely new feature of the police legislation, though civil service in the police department is a matter which has been under frequent discussion.

The ordinance regarding ineligibility of police commissioners to succeed themselves merely amplifies the present ordinance on that subject, so as to make it impossible for a police commissioner to secure reelection for a succeeding term by any subterfuge, such as running for the place on the board held by another man, or by resigning before his term expires and offering again at the next election.

Councilman Terrell, who was chairman of the special committee, wanted immediate action taken on the ordinance and resolution. Alderman Woodward, Councilmen Peters and Carter wanted the report referred to the ordinance committee in order that the police board might have an opportunity to be heard. This latter motion prevailed after discussion.

HOME MISSIONS ARE DISCUSSED

Stone Mountain Baptist Association Held An Interesting Day.

The second day's session of the annual meeting of the Stone Mountain Baptist Association was held yesterday at the Sharon Baptist church, there being a good attendance and several interesting sermons and reports.

Home missions were discussed by Dr. D. B. Gray and Rev. C. B. Daniel, both of whom delivered very instructive and profitable addresses. The missionary sermon, which is one of the features of the association's annual meetings, was delivered by Dr. W. W. Landrum and was a strong pulpit talk.

John M. Greene submitted a report concerning the Hapeville orphanage, which is maintained by the association. This report showed that the orphanage is now caring for ten children and that its affairs are in a very gratifying condition. Walker Dunson also spoke on the home, after which a collection was taken up for this institution.

The state mission report was read by W. W. Gaines and discussed by Dr. Landrum and Dr. John E. White, both of whom talked interestingly.

IDEAL PAVEMENT NOT DISCOVERED

Atlanta Committee Found It a Problem Everywhere.

But the Committee Makes Some Interesting Recommendations Regarding Street Paving Materials to Be Used in Atlanta.

Through Alderman Terry, the special committee, which was charged with the duty of taking a trip north and east to inspect various kinds of street paving material, and to present its conclusions as to the best street pavement, yesterday submitted its report to council.

The committee which was composed of Alderman Terry, Councilmen Bruce and Hynds, City Engineer R. M. Clayton, Commissioner of Public Works H. L. Collier and Chief W. R. Joyner, visited New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Cambridge, Lynn, Springfield, Baltimore and Washington, conferred with the city officials of all these places and inspected the various kinds of street paving used by them.

The keynote of the committee's report may be found in one of the opening paragraphs, as follows:

"We find that in all the cities mentioned the street paving problem is agitating the minds of those who have it in charge, and it is generally agreed that the ideal pavement has not been discovered."

With the exception of asphalt blocks, creosoted wood blocks and bituminous macadam, the committee found no street paving material that has not been used in Atlanta, "and it is with pleasure that the committee can say that the streets of Atlanta compare very favorably with any found in our tour of inspection."

The committee then proceeds to a brief discussion of the various materials used for street paving purposes, and pays especial attention to the bituminous macadam. There is no pavement material, the committee says, which will meet all the requirements to make it perfect, "and the question resolves itself into a matter of judgment that must be determined by the local conditions as to the cost of materials, grades, width of streets, and character and amount of traffic."

The committee says in concluding its report:

"We would recommend that small granite blocks approximating 4 inches in width 8 inches in length and 6 inches in depth laid on concrete foundation, be used on streets of very heavy traffic around freight depots and ware houses and on grades that are too steep to use a smooth pavement.

"On retail business streets and around office and public building and high-class residence streets with a large amount of traffic, either creosoted wooden blocks, asphalt blocks or sheet asphalt may be desirably used, but where sheet asphalt or bituminous macadam is used we would suggest that between the street railroad tracks and for not less than 9 inches outside of the tracks be laid with either asphalt blocks or vitrified paving blocks or creosoted wooden blocks when the grade will permit, and on asphalt streets that the gutters for a width of 20 inches be laid with vitrified paving blocks.

"Brick pavements may be used to advantage on second grade retail business streets, narrow streets with car tracks and residence streets of light traffic.

"The bituminous macadam is desirable where a smooth pavement is wanted and the grades are such as to prevent the use of either asphalt or creosoted blocks, for example West Peachtreet street from Baker to Linden street.

"For suburban streets with light traffic, driveways in parks, etc., we would recommend the use of macadam and chert, using if possible trap rock for the wearing surface.

"Applying the above suggestion to the streets that are now being considered by the council for repaving, we would make the following recommendations: Small granite blocks on Alabama street and Madison avenue, from fire department headquarters to Peters street. As Mitchell street from Whitehall street to Madison avenue will be the main driveway from the city to the new depot, we recommend the use of creosoted blocks laid on concrete, provided the bids for this work should be reasonable.

"On Forsyth street, from Hunter to Alabama street; Decatur street, from Peachtree to Pryor street, and Broad street, from Marietta to Walton street, we would suggest either creosoted blocks, asphalt blocks or sheet asphalt, to be determined by the preference of the property owners."

Council passed a resolution expressing its thanks to the committee and ordering the report spread upon the minutes so that it may be preserved.

The committee turned back into the city treasury over $300 of the $1,000 appropriated for the trip.

SPECTATOR MADE A SPEECH.

Dr. Smith Finally Voted in Council Meeting, and Was Then Speedily Removed.

Dr. Ephraim Smith created considerable disturbance during the meeting of council yesterday afternoon, as the result of a condition superinduced by too free an indulgence in intoxicants and finally had to be removed by Marshal Riley, with the assistance of Sanitary Chief Jentzen.

When the maternity ward of the Grady hospital was under discussion Dr. Smith arose from his seat among the spectators and attempted to make a speech. Marshal Riley went to him and warned him that he must be orderly or he would have to put him out. The city marshal then sat down near him.

A few minutes later when the negative of a proposition was put by the mayor pro tem. Dr. Smith voted "No," in quite a loud voice.

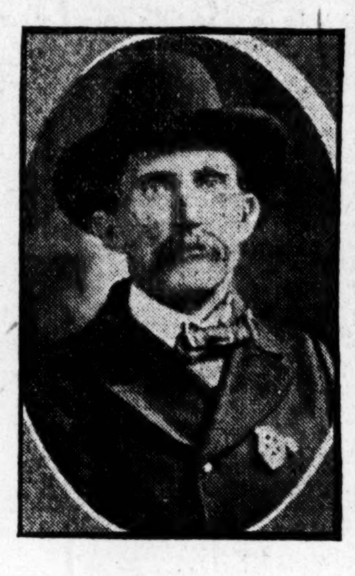
Marshal Riley and Chief Jentzey then took him out of the council chamber and turned him over to the police. The doctor resisted the effort to eject him and finally fell to the floor, so that he had to be dragged to the elevator.

OFFICER WRIGHT IS DISMISSED

County Commissioners Discharge County Policeman.

Charge Made That Officer Used Profanity in Presence of Ladies on Night of August 18 at East Point Mission Was Sustained.

As a result of the hearing before the county commissioners of Fulton county yesterday, County Policeman W. A. Wright was dismissed from the service for using profanity in the presence of ladies on the night of August 18. The commissioners stated that the charge made that he had mistreated Rev. W. W. Holland in the arresting of that gentleman for disorderly conduct was not borne out in the testimony offered.



County Policeman W. A. Wright who was Dismissed by the County Board Yesterday.

The hearing began at 11:30 with a great bowl of beautiful roses on the table before the commissioners, fresh and pure with the Georgia dew. The hearing closed late in the afternoon, after many had testified to the good character and the bad character of both the policeman and the pastor of the East Point mission, and long before the decision was given out the roses were drooped and faded.

Again the court room was crowded with curious listeners, and while they heard much testimony as to profane language, the intensely morbid were evidently disappointed in that the evidence did not bring out anything more sensational. The charges against the policeman were made by W. Woods White and Rev. Mr. Holland.

There were many witnesses, mostly from the misison, who testified that Policeman Wright, on the night of August 18, used profane language in the presence of ladies—Mrs. W. W. Holland and Mrs. Ella Carter being among these witnesses. Then there were others called, who testified that they were present at the time and that Policeman Wright did not use the language charged. In this way the testimony was conflicting, most conflicting.

Much Feeling Evident.

There was also testimony offered that after the occurrence of August 18, Policeman Wright went into the mission to arrest Rev. W. W. Holland for fighting and disorderly conduct, and that at this time he tripped up the preacher, and in other ways attempted to abuse him, and also used profane language. This testimony was refuted by other witnesses, and the charge was not sustained by the commissioners.

One witness, a woman with very fair hair, was brought up by counsel for Policeman Wright, and her testimony regarding the character of Rev. Mr. Holland promised to be most sensational, with Mrs. Holland and her father in the court room. The testimony of the witness was that she had known the Rev. Mr. Holland some time ago and she was immediately excused.

It was very evident that the action of the commissioners came as a surprise to most of those in the court room. There were many conferences immediately after adjournment, and there were several who stated that the feeling in East Point was of such a nature that it was more than possible that the immediate future would show other developments in this case, which has divided the town of East Point into two factions.

The prosecution was represented by B. H. Hill and B. L. Willingham represented Policeman Wright.

Officer Wright has been in the service of Fulton county for a number of years, and was wounded in the riot at Pittsburg some two or three years ago. When asked if he wished to make any statement, he said that he did not.

Get After the Vagrants.

From different portions of the state come complaints that while there is a crying demand for workers in the cotton fields, and while excellent wages are offered, a large number of negroes possessing no visible means of support, hanging about the cities and towns, refuse all overtures looking toward work.

Instead of availing themselves of the opportunity to earn an honest living, these loafers and loiterers hang about the towns, either relying upon others to support them or gaining a support by gambling or theft. In either capacity, these people demand the prompt attention of the legal authorities of the counties and towns.

The time is particularly opportune for a revival of interest on the part of the authorities in the vagrancy law. That law was enacted for the express purpose of getting at this class of worthless citizens. It applies, of course, to the whites as well as to the negroes, and should be enforced with equal vigor against the vagrants of both races; but the negroes are the worst offenders by far, as everybody familiar with conditions throughout Georgia well understands.

In all parts of Georgia the courts are now convening. The judges of the courts, city and superior, can render no more valuable service at this time than by impressing upon grand juries and prosecuting officers the necessity of putting the provisions of the vagrancy law into practical and forceful operation. The man who can work and will not work is a bad citizen, a menace to the community upon which he preys, and he should be called to prompt account under the provisions and penalties of the Calvin law.

Vigorous action by the officers of the law in every city and town will rid Georgia of its vagrants and go a long way toward supplying the crying need for labor in the cotton fields.

Fire for the Boll Weevil.

The ravages of the boll weevil, which threaten to break all previous bounds in Texas this year, have driven the boll weevil commission of that state to advocate the most drastic and fundamental remedy yet put forward. Its chairman, Jefferson Johnson, former commissioner of agriculture and insurance for the state, will recommend to the legislature a complete burning over all the fields where the pest has appeared. He and his associates have faithfully investigated every cure offered for the plague, and they unite in declaring that the uncompromising application of fire is the only practical solution.

Up to the first week in August, Texas had prospects of a record-breaking yield. A conservative estimate, confirmed by the government report of August 3, placed the output in the region of 4,000,000. There is a different story to tell now. For approaching three weeks the fields have been drenched with torrential rains, alternating with the most intense heat and humidity. This brand of weather is paradise to the weevil and reports coming in from various centers indicate that it has not only appeared in unprecedented force in localities previously infected, but has also invaded many sections hitherto immune. The planting of early varieties of seed and frequent cultivation and lavish use of paris green have somewhat checked its activities, although it is estimated from present indications that the damage to the crop will range from a half to a million bales.

Thousands of dollars have been spent on chemical solutions touted as death to the pest, but they have done little to stay its onward march. Mr. Johnson states that the Guatamalan ant holds out fair promise of meeting the end for which it was imported, but years or generations may pass before it can overcome the five-year handicap of its prey, and that after all there is no guarantee that it can survive the rigors of a Texas winter.

Summing up the results of his long study and many experiments, Mr. Johnson concludes that the brightest hope for deliverance lies in the use of fire, which it seems is about the only agency which the weevil cannot resist. His idea is to wait until the middle of October, the period at which the weevil hibernates, and then to force the farmers, through legislative enactment, to cut down all their stalks and burn them to ashes. In this process, weevil, eggs, plant and boll will be reduced to ashes. The few that escape and their offspring will be similarly treated the following season. It is Mr. Johnson's opinion that the use of this severe course two or three consecutive seasons will effectually rid Texas of a serious problem and the other cotton states and the country at large of a gloomy menace. He believes that should there be any delay in applying this remedy, the weevil will spread through the unaffected portions of Texas and into adjacent states at a rate which will make its past progress seem insignificant.

To the objection that the use of fire will destroy a portion of the crop, Mr. Johnson replies that the only percentage affected will be the "top" crop, which matures in late fall or early winter, and that it is infinitely more economical to lose this for two or three seasons than to let the weevil gain a foothold which may endanger the prosperity of the south for several successive years. He adds that with due precautions there need be no fear of danger to property from this wholesale use of fire. Since the torch would be employed only in the localities affected, the temporary loss would be inconsiderable compared with the resultant benefit. Mr. Johnson will hardly be able to put his plans into execution before the fall of 1905, since the Texas legislature does not convene until next January. He expects, in the meantime, to conduct a vigorous campaign of education, so that when the issue comes before the legislature it will be supported by an almost unanimous popular approval.

On the face of it, the remedy outlined by the commission appears feasible. Certainly it is sufficiently radical to please the most impatient sufferers. To those of us not on the spot it may appear a little too heroic, but we are likely to view the matter differently when we consider Texas' heavy money-loss for the last four years, the probability that it will be aggravated by time in spite of the utmost efforts, and the grave fact that the great financial back-bone of the entire south is menaced as long as the weevil thrives in the Lone Star State. In the face of desperate situations, extraordinary measures are justified, so we can hardly blame the Texas farmers if they adopt such an extreme course against their insidiously encroaching enemy.

It is pertinent to suggest, however, that as long as the weevil exists in Mexico, from whence it came, it will continue to menace American cotton fields, in spite of the broad Rio Grande. Thus it would seem imperative to check the evil at its source, while fighting it in its present stronghold. Otherwise Texas will lose its top crop every five or ten years and the entire south will still be subject to a masked peril—neither of which is a pleasant contingency.

The Church and the Lynchers.

The action of the Methodist church at Statesboro in not only putting itself on record in the strongest possible terms in condemnation of lynching, but in calling upon such of its members, if there be any, who participated in the recent lynching at that place, to either "make public confession of wrong with expression of penitence and contrition," or get outside the fold, furnishes an excellent illustration of of the important part the church can play in curing the lynching evil.

Whether there is truth in the report that some members of this church were participants in that dreadful affair we do not pretend to know. Evidently it is known, or at least reported, that some were in the mob which overpowered the militia and took the condemned murderers from the hands of the officers of the law. With this knowledge, or having heard these reports, the official members of the church have taken prompt and appropriate action. The men who took part in that lynching committed a crime not only against the state and society, but against the church, and they are to be called to account for it.

Which is eminently right and proper.

The crime which lynchers commit is not against their victims—especially in a case like that at Statesboro, where the two victims had pleaded guilty to one of the most heinous crimes on record—but it is against the law, the state and civilization. The two victims in that case would have had death meted out to them with no unnecessary delay, but it would have been meted out under the orders of the court and by the representatives of the state. When the lynchers essayed to take the law into their own hands, they overthrew the authorities of the state and defied its courts and the agencies for the administration of the edicts of the courts.

But even greater was their crime against Christian civilization. Mob murders, whether they be in Georgia or in Kishinef, place the greatest possible stigma upon civilization, since they dethrone that respect for the law which is the corner stone of every civilization worthy the name; their inevitable tendency is to brutalize the participants; they do no good, but instead, infinite harm.

Bishop Candler laid himself open to some very severe criticism about a year ago when he instituted a crusade against lynching throughout the great church of which he is one of the most honored leaders, but his crusade has borne fruit in the action of the church at Statesboro. Under no circumstances can the church rest under the suspicion of even winking at this crime. The crusade must go on, here in Georgia and elsewhere.

And there should be no waiting for other outbreaks. When it is made known from one end of this country to another that the Methodist and the other branches of the Christian church have no room for lynchers among their membership; when it is made clear that the lyncher's crime is against not only the state but the church: when the text furnished by the Methodist church of Statesboro is adopted by the preachers throughout the land, a long step toward the prevention of lynching outbreaks will have been taken.

FOR PERFECT HOUSEKEEPERS.

Chicago Public Schools Will Teach Art of Home Making.

Chicago, September 7.—Perfect housekeepers will be graduated from the Chicago public schools soon if the aims of the board of education are attained. The expectations of the board members are based on a course of study in cooking and sewing just completed by R. M. House sanitation, including the chemistry of house cleaning, also will be taken up.

RECORD TIME ON STEAMER.

Cramps Had Nine Days To Spare on Mohican.

Philadelphia, September 7.—The new steamship Mohican, built by the Cramp Shipbuilding Company, for William P. Clyde, was delivered to the latter company today. The completion of the Mohican creates a new record in shipbuilding on the Atlantic coast.

The design of the vessel was finally decided on March 4. The first material was received at the ship yard on March 15, the keel was laid May 3 and the ship was launched on August 6. Nineteen days later the machinery had been installed and the vessel was delivered one month after being launched, nine days in advance of contract time.

The Mohican will ply between New York and Wilmington, N. C.

NELSON STREET PLAN UNSETTLED

Councilmen Want Better Proposal From Southern.

Committee Made a Favorable Report Regarding the Closing of Nelson Street, But Council Was Not Satisfied—Talk Injunction.

Back to the committees on streets and bridges goes the proposal of the Southern railway regarding the closing of Nelson street for nine months for the purpose of building a new bridge and excavating up to Madison avenue to complete its freight terminals.

So much opposition developed in council yesterday to the plan proposed in the report of these committees regarding the new bridge, that finally, after considerable discussion, the whole matter was referred back to these committees, apparently with the intention of getting better terms, if possible, from the Southern railway.

The street and bridge committees held a joint meeting yesterday morning and passed up favorably a resolution accepting the proposal of the Southern railway with regard to this bridge. There was only one adverse vote in the committee meeting, that of Councilman Carter.

The report of these committees recommended that the Southern railway be given the right to excavate under Nelson street up to Madison avenue for the purpose of completing its freight terminals; that the Southern be required to construct an entire new steel bridge from Nelson street to Madison avenue, the city to pay one-half the expense of that portion of the new structure which replaces the present bridge; that the Southern pay the expense of maintaining the portion of the bridge from Madison avenue up to the present structure, and the city pay the expense of maintenance of that part of the new structure which replaces the present bridge; that permission be given to close Nelson street for nine months while the new bridge is being built; that the Southern be required to give bond for $20,000 to complete the bridge within nine months and that it forfeit $100 a day to the city for every day after that time that the street remained closed.

Alderman Woodward declared that the railroads did not deal fairly with Atlanta, and he cited the fight for better freight rates in which the railroads have refused to grant the relief asked for.

Alderman Harwell and Councilman Peters spoke in favor of the report of the joint committee.

The motion to refer the whole matter back to the two committees was finally carried, the object being to get the Southern Railway Company to pay the entire expense of constructing the new bridge.

It is understood if the petition for permission to close Nelson street for nine months is granted by council, Forrest Adair and perhaps other property owners on Nelson street and in that section of the city, will seek to prevent by injunction in the courts such closing of the street.

POLICE BOARD WANTS MONEY.

Council Finance Committee Is Asked for More Cash for Incidentals.

The police board is short of funds for incidental expenses. Chairman S. W. Day, of the police board, accompanied by Commissioner Nunnally, Councilman Hilburn and Chief Ball, appeared before the finance committee of council yesterday and presented their case.

In 1903 there was first appropriated $7,000 for incidental expenses of the police department, and subsequently $2,000 more was given, of which about $1,000 was used for policemen at the interstate fair. This made a total of $9,000 for last year.

At the beginning of 1904 only $5,000 was given the department for incidentals, and of this amount $4,898.84 was expended up to July 31, leaving a balance of $101.16.

Chairman Day said the board had carefully gone over the matter, and found it would need $4,000 more for incidentals to finish out the year. Of this amount about $1,000 would have to be used in replacing two of the patrol wagons which are about worn out, and in paying for telephone service.

Chairman Inman, of the finance committee, said the committee would take the matter up and would do the best it could for the department in the October apportionment sheet.

During the discussion the fact was brought out that $1,200 was appropriated and is now available for the construction of a detention ward at the police station. Chairman Day said he had been under the impression that this amount had been held up by the aldermanic board. He was glad to learn that such was not the case, and said the amount would be used at once to provide for a detention ward at the station house.

Chief Ball explained the necessity for a detention ward, which is to be used for the confinement of juvenile offenders and of apparently respectable persons who are under suspicion. The commissioners present were glad to learn that the money for this purpose was available, and said it would be used at once for the much-needed improvement.

Councilman Turner, who is a member of the board of education, appeared to urge the committee to furnish sufficient funds to open Starr's school for negroes and to supply two additional assistant teachers of manual training for the Boys' High school.

He explained that the opening of Starr's school on Houston street was necessary to take care of a large number of negro pupils who are now without school facilities. The board has asked for an appropriation of $1,600 for the purpose of running this school until January, but as nothing can be done until the October sheet is made up it may be the school will not be opened until the first of the year.

Likewise nothing can be done regarding the additional teachers of manual training until the October sheet is made up.

A request for a vacation of one week for each of the employees of the public works department was not acted on, because it was stated that the time for vacations had passed.

COMMISSION MAY REVISE THE STANDARD TARIFF

No Decision Yet Reached in Atlanta's Petition for Just Freight Rates---Governor Going to Manassas---Capitol Gossip.

The Georgia railroad commission is now figuring on a revision of the standard tariff, fixed by the commission to regulate freight rates within the state.

The commission met in its rooms at the capitol yesterday morning, all three commissioners being present. The task in hand has been under consideration by the commissioners individually ever since the matter of discrimination against Atlanta was first brought to the attention of this body. Commissioner Joseph M. Brown, who was not in office at the time the petition of the Atlanta Freight Bureau was heard, has been studying the matter ever since his appointment.

A revision of the standard tariff is no small job and it is likely the commission will need several days in which to accomplish what it has sent out to do, especially as each commissioner has his own personal ideas about the extent and details of the changes to be made, though all are agreed on the proposition that through this means Atlanta can and ought to be given relief.

It is expected that when the commission issues its formal order changing the standard tariff it will also appeal to the interstate commerce commission to revise and regulate the interstate rates so as to give Atlanta complete relief from freight rate hardships imposed by discrimination on the part of the railroads.

The commission yesterday granted the petition of the Central of Georgia, allowing this road sixty days, all told, in which to submit to the commission its stock books and other records. The order of the commission was based on a petition of the Atlanta Freight Bureau, charging the Southern railroad with owning the Central of Georgia, and, as the order originally stood, the latter road was directed to submit its books bearing on this question within twenty days from the issuance of the order—August 29.

Later the Central of Georgia filed a petition stating that many of its officials are now away on vacations and that it would be almost impossible to comply with the commission's order at this time, wherefore an extension of forty days was asked. It was this petition the commission granted.

Governor to Manassas.

Governor Terrell and a party of distinguished Georgians leave this morning for Manassas, Va., where they will spend the remainder of the week watching the military manuevers now in progress there. Those accompanying the governor will be Comptroller General W. A. Wright, Colonel W. L. Peel, of Atlanta; Colonel Peter Meldrim, of Savannah, and Major Emmett Irvin, military secretary of the governor. The party will be the guests of General Corbin and will be quartered during their visit at the general's headquarters near the manuever grounds.

Banks Want Charters.

Two petitions for bank charters were yesterday filed in the office of Secretary of State Phil Cook. The first of these was for a charter for the Bank of Cumming, to be located at Cumming, Forsyth county. The petitioners in this instance are L. Edmondson, W. S. Davenpory and S. H. Allen.

The second bank is to be known as the Broxton Banking Company, and is to be located at Broxton, Coffee county. The petitioners for this second charter are T. M. Cheatham, E. L. Moore, B. L. Bledsoe, C. O. Beauchamp, C. A. Tyler, J. F. Mullis, Ward and Collins, J. J. Powers, J. S. Clark, T. M. Fletcher, S. B. Gore, J. D. Anderson, E. H. Moore, Sherod Byrd, J. J. Dorning, M. E. Vickers, Jesse Labb, M. A. McDowell, A. G. Gabutt, M. D. Dickerman and L. O. Benton.

The capital stock of both banks is to be $25,000.

Governor Terrell yesterday offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of Will Moore, colored, who is charged with the murder of William Hill in Bartow county, on November 15, [illegible].

State School Commissioner Merritt spent yesterday at Danielsville, Ga., where he delivered an address at an enthusiastic educational rally. Professor Walker White, chief clerk in Commissioner Merritt's office, is spending his vacation in St. Louis, from which point he writes that he is thoroughly enjoying the Pike and other exposition features.

NO NATIONAL SIGNIFICANCE IN SEPTEMBER ELECTIONS

By Jos: Ohl.

It is not likely anybody will be fooled by the republican claim that the September results in Vermont and Arkansas gives an indication of the trend of political sentiment throughout the country. Vermont has gone republican and Arkansas has gone democratic just as everybody knew they would. These state-election results are significane of the certainty that Vermont will go republican and Arkansas will go democratic in the November election—and of not one thing else. The results are no more significant of the political conditions in the doubtful states than will be the October election in Georgia when Governor Terrell and the other democratic nominees will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

Small Cause for Republican Rejoicing.

The republican managers are claiming an increase in the republican vote and a decrease in the democratic vote in Vermont as compared with te state election of 1900, and arguing from this standpoint they see wonderful things in a slightly increased majority for Mr. Bell, their candidate for governor, over the 31,282 plurality Governor Stickney received that year. Nobody outside of Vermont has for a minute believed there was the slightest likelihood of any increase in the democratic vote in that conservative old New England state where the party lines are drawn just as they have been for the last thirty years and where the little band of democrats is in such a hopeless minority that one who joins it leaves behind him all hope of ever holding a state or county or municipal office. There is not a single county in the state which the democrats have the slightest chance of carrying. Every young man, and every old one, who holds in his heart a hope of getting a taste of official salary—and office appeals to the thrifty New England soul just about as strongly as it does to that of his brother in other regions—realizes that his only show is through the republican party.

The Vermont Spartan Band.

The little band of men who keep on voting the democratic ticket in Vermont are inspired by principle—certainly not by self-interest. The records show that this little democratic band has made the following showing in the national elections:

In 1876	20,350
In 1880	18,316
In 1884	17,331
In 1888	16,788
In 1892	16,325
In 1896	10,637
In 1900	12,849

While the low water mark was touched in 1896, it is evident that this was due to the "Bryanism" scare so effectually used upon the innocents of New England and the north generally, for in the state election two years later the democratic vote increased to 14,686. In the state election in 1900, this vote was 17,129, though as shown above but 12,849 votes were cast for Mr. Bryan that same year.

Only Slight Fall Off.

There is, therefore, no real significance in this September election. If the democratic vote does show a slight fall-off from the state election of 1900, the total is approximately 15,000, which isn't so bad—for Vermont democracy. Whatever the final count, it will have absolutely no bearing upon the presidential contests in the close states where the result of the great national fight will be determined. The probability is—if we are to deal in probabilities at all—that Judge Parker will poll something like 15,000 or 16,000 votes in November and that Mr. Roosevelt will have a smaller plurality than Mr. McKinley received—which was 40,490 in 1896 and 29,719 in 1900. But even if his plurality is smaller, it will be large enough to insure the four electoral votes of Vermont to the republican ticket.

The only possible warrant for the republican claim that there is any significance at all in the Vermont result is found in the fact that the democratic managers sent some campaign speakers into that state. To an outsider, this looked like giving to this Vermont contest an importance it did not deserve.

Local Issues in Arkansas.

As to Arkansas, the fact that strenuous Jeff Davis has a much smaller majority than he had in 1902 and 1900 means absolutely nothing more than that a good many of the enemies of Governor Davis in his own party have declined to vote for him. The factional differences in the democratic party of Arkansas are exceedingly bitter. Davis succeeded in having himself nominated for a third term after a good deal of a fight. His enemies are bitter in their opposition to him and from the returns of Monday's election, it looks as if about 30,000 of them had respectfully declined to enter his name upon their ballots. In 1900, Governor Davis had a plurality of 43,936 and in 1902 a plurality of 44,103. The democratic pluralities upon the national ticket were 40,950 in 1892, 72,591 in 1896, and 36,342 in 1900. Arkansas is good for about 40,000 plurality for Judge Parker, which is certainly sufficient for all practical purposes.

Arkansas is as safely and surely democratic as Georgia; Vermont is as safely and surely republican as Ohio; the September election in neither state has any bearing whatsoever upon the national contest.

Some Total Vote Figures.

Here is one of a number of letters of the same import that have come to me:

"5700 Third Avenue, Woodlawn, Ala. Dear Sir: Please tell me what you think would be a close estimate on the total vote to be cast in November for president of the United States. Also give me what you think would be a close estimate on the vote of Ohio for president in November. C. J. HERNDON."

Perhaps the following figures, showing the total vote cast in recent presidential contests will help Mr. Herndon and other inquirers to make their estimates. They will have to figure for themselves the probable percentage of increase for 1904 over previous years:

Total vote in 1884 was	10,044,[illegible]
Total vote in 1888 was	11,380,[illegible]
Total vote in 1892 was	12,059,[illegible]
Total vote in 1896 was	13,923,[illegible]
Total vote in 1900 was	13,961,[illegible]

As to Ohio, the total vote in the last five presidential contests was:

1884	784,[illegible]
1888	840,[illegible]
1892	850,[illegible]
1896	1,009,[illegible]
1900	1,040,[illegible]

Governor Bell as a Counter.

To return just for a minute to Vermont. The newly elected republican governor has a record as a counter which is hard to beat. As a member of the board of agriculture and cattle commission he charged the state for 367 days work during the year ending June [illegible] 1901, and he even beat that record the next year, when he counted in 374 days.

Democratic Interest in Delaware.

The hot contest in which some half dozen aspirants have been making for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in Delaware would certainly seem to indicate confidence that the little state of the Bayards stands an excellent chance of landing in the democratic column this year. The victory of Calet S. Pennewill indicates that former Senator Dick Kenney, now national committeeman from that state, is the strongest of the democratic leaders for Pennewill has had his backing. It looked for a time as if Peter Ford would be able to land his candidate, Joseph E. Holland, but Kenney won in the convention. Each of the republican factions has made a nomination for governor and it looks now as if there can be no compromise between them. The present governor is a republican; the present representative in the lower house of congress a democrat. Even should the republicans succeed in carrying through their electoral ticket, they may lose their governor and congressman.

DEMOCRATIC EDITORS MEET AT THE BANQUET BOARD

SPEECH OF MR. HOWELL TO DEMOCRATIC EDITORS

NEW YORK, September 7.—Mr. Howell responded to the toast "Democratic Success the Surest Guarantee of National Unity."

Mr. Howell opened his discussion by the development of the proposition that national unity was the basis of national strength. By "national unity" he meant unity of sentiment and of patriotic purpose among all the sections—all moved by the common impulse to contribute to the national welfare by the exercise of a policy so broad and generous as to let every section share alike in the benefits of the federal administration. The mutual recognition of and allowance for the sentiments, traditions and surroundings of the respective sections in so far as such recognition may not conflict with the federal constitution, was essential to genuine unity. Where there are honest differences of opinion as to the intent of the fundamental law it is for the courts of the land, and not for the political parties, to decide, and upon such decision every patriotic citizen should willingly take his stand. Only by such broad and liberal treatment can the evils of sectional division be eliminated, and the man or the party who points the way to such a solution deserves, and will receive, the plaudits of the whole country.

Continuing, Mr. Howell said:

"Out of national unity grows national patriotism, national prosperity and national dignity, at home and abroad. Without self-respect we cannot expect others to respect us. Self-respect in its national sense means that common respect that each state and each section should feel, first for the government that stands for all, and next that confidence and trust that each should have for the other. If one or more sections is to assume an attitude of political hostility to another, there is at once a lack of that essential unity that ought to be the very basis of our national patriotism. Regardless of sections or political administration, every state should feel that the flag is its own and every citizen should be willing and ready, in case of necessity, to offer up his life's blood for its defense. Whether it floats from the flagstaff of the home or from the dome of the capitol it should stand for all that is best in governmental contribution to the peace, happiness and comfort of the citizens of the republic.

Causes of Prosperity.

"National prosperity is itself a creation of this condition, for out of it grows those elements of confidence, zeal and hope that flood the arteries of our commerce, strengthens the developing inclination of capital and gives the impetus of activity to labor in its varied branches.

"From the infinite universe of our country's mission the stars of the states unite in the creation of the resplendent glow that carries the light of our flag around the world. Divert one of them from its natural and normal course and the disturbance is felt at once in the symmetry of the arrangement which fate has decreed for all. In the respect, forbearance and mutual allowance that the states should exercise one for the other is to be found the true spirit of national unity that promotes national strength, national confidence, national loyalty and love, and that creates the condition that bespeaks for our flag the honor of those who respect it and the fear of those who would desecrate it if they dared.

"Any political party is entitled to hold and to urge its views upon the economic questions of the day, but a party that would build its hope of success, as the republican party has done, upon a bold and defiant challenge of the peace, prosperity and happiness of the people of a great section of our country is neither entitled to its own self-respect nor to that of the public sentiment of the nation!

"We democrats stand for reasonable tariff reduction because we believe that it is as good—if not better—for New England as it is for the south or west. We demand a more economical administration of the government at Washington because we believe that it is wrong to pillage the taxpayers of any state or section. We denounce unfettered and unblushing imperialism because we know where it leads and because it contradicts and undermines the very basis on which our government rests, and offers an ever attractive invitation to international complications. But there is not a declaration of our platform that is not born of an honest desire to help the whole people, to serve the whole country, and to so administer the affairs of government that neither harm, hardship nor injustice will be worked to the people of any state or section.

"Can the republicans say as much? And if not, can they not properly be classed as despoilers of national harmony and wreckers of sectional fraternity?

Roosevelt and the Negro.

"Disguise as they may, they cannot deny the sectional animus of their party purpose nor evade the record of their administration in its unjust and ungenerous dealings with the south in the matter of federal appointments, and in the brutal and indefensible manner in which their president has raised the lid of the racial Pandora's box—that our people, black and white, may be tormented with the devils that have emerged from it.

"I speak the sentiment of the south of today—the new south, if you will—when I tell you that the mistaken attitude of the republican president has done more to check the real progress of the negro than all else that has been done since the war. His stubborn disregard of the advice of even his own party referees in the states affected, in his mad determination that white constituencies should be served by negro officeholders exclusively in the south—for it would be repudiated in the north—has rekindled the slumbering embers of racial hostility to a degree that has not been known since the days of reconstruction.

"Was it necessary? Let them ask the memory of their martyred McKinley, who, twice honored with the presidency, died with south and north kneeling together at his bedside uniting their prayers that God might spare his life. Typical republican that he was, just and fair to white and black alike, there was something in his gentle demeanor that said to the whole country that though placed in his exalted office by partisan instrumentality he was, indeed, the president of all the states, and all the sections. Alas! the pity of the unfulfilled promise that his successor would continue the policy which had so markedly contributed to the spirit of national unity, and as the result of which even the republican party made enough converts in the south to break its solidity and to make doubtful several states, which, by the change of policy, are today more certainly democratic than ever. Even as democrats we had hoped that the time had come, by God's grace, when white men could differ on economic issues without fear of sacrificing their civilization or of immolating intelligence and good citizenship upon the altar of illiteracy, corruption and racial disturbance!

"Lest the republicans should want further testimony than that offered by the kindly attitude of their own McKinley, let his successor ask the negro himself—not the political type out for the loaves and fishes, but the conservative representative of his race—if the changed policy has been productive of good or evil to the race in promoting harmony or discord between it and those who, in the very nature of things, ought to be, and are, their best real friends.

No Rights Denied Negroes.

"I would not deny them a single right to which they are justly entitled—nor would our people. As conscientious well wishers of a race that is among us, and which is here to stay, we but ask the privilege of cooperating with its better element toward the upbuilding and the uplifting of the race to the plane of good citizenship, and to that end I protest with all the fervor of my nature against that political interference which seeks to use the negro for the one purpose of partisan chestnut pulling, while making it more difficult for his real friends to help as they would, if left unhampered by political mischief makers.

"More than that, I would bespeak for them at the north the same consideration they receive in the south—though frequently denied them in republican states—that of having the right to earn their own bread by the sweat of their brow, and of protection from assault when, as has happened under more than one republican governor, they have asserted that simple right.

"All the south asks is to deal with this question as its conscience and its judgment dictates, and we pledge that the solution will be for the best of all concerned—best for the negro, best for the whites and best for the country at large.

"I am aware of the fact that in response to this suggestion the republican reply is to point to an occasional outbreak against the law as evidence that we need help from partisan sources—but our answer is that for every Statesboro there is a Wilmington, and that occasional expressions of mob violence, however unjustifiable, are no more expressions of public sentiment in Georgia or Texas than when they occur, with less cause to provoke them, in Illinois or Indiana. Why, even Mr. Roosevelt in his 'Winning of the West' has gone further than the most rabid apologist for mob violence in Georgia or Illinois would think of going, for in defense of lynching for nothing worse than horse stealing he wrote: 'In many of the cases of lynch law which have come to my knowledge the effect has been healthy for the community.'

"Eliminate the race question, as a political issue, and you have put the capstone on the pyramid of national unity. Republicans no less than democrats should welcome the day when it is done, for then will all the states divide in healthy contention over economic issues—and the country will be the better for it.

Democracy Not Sectional.

"The democratic party has no section to punish and no issue that is not of equal concern to all the sections. It is not a party of greed, graft, spoliation, or sectional hate. It stands for peace and not for war. It would preserve the honor and the dignity of the country at any time, anywhere and at any cost—but it is not prancing over the world with a chip on its shoulder daring somebody to knock it off. It stands for a union of the states in heart, as well as in name—as the surest way to the God-given destiny which has decreed that this shall lead all the nations of the earth. In success or defeat, its mission is everlasting, nor will it be content until through its instrumentality the dragon of sectional discord has been slain and all the sections are brought together in that true spirit of national unity that must be the inspiration of our future greatness, and the abiding faith that will cry from every fireside in the land the glory of the nation, and the stalwart strength, yet peace-loving ideals, of its people."

A Fancy for the Fair.

Every woman has an inherent fondness for those dainty accessories which impart a chic, smart air to her style.

The shirt waist set, one of the indispensibles, consists of a belt pin, and three pins for the front of the shirt waist.

The latest of these come in Roman and Rose Gold, set with baroque pearls, turquoise and other jewels.

MAIER & BERKELE,
31 and 33 Whitehall Street.

RICHMOND, VA.

Now the Wholesale Center of the South.

There is nothing in the commercial annals of the south more astonishing than the rapid growth of Richmond, Va., in manufacturing and wholesale lines.

A special reason for Richmond's leadership is the progressiveness of its manufacturers and merchants. Nowhere will there be found more business enterprise, greater business activity or better business methods than among the business men of Richmond. The great manufacturing and wholesale establishments are constantly reaching out for more business, extending their connections to more and more distant points, finding customers and making friends wherever they go. In line with this policy is the generous offer now made by leading firms to refund the railroad fare of any southern merchant whose purchases upon a personal visit to Richmond reach amounts large enough to justify such action. Particulars in regard to this liberal offer may be had by writing the chamber of commerce or any of the following leading firms: Southern Manufacturing Co. (manufacturers of baking powder), Fleishman, Morris & Co. (shoes), M. Cohen Son & Co. (clothing), Drewry Hughes & Co. (dry goods), T. W. Wood Sons (seeds), A. Von Rosenegk (brewery), E. A. Saunders' Sons & Co. (groceries and liquors), Roberts & Hodge (shoes), R. A. Patterson Tobacco Co., Cottrell Saddlery Co., Stephen Putney Shoe Co., Wingo, Ellett & Crump Shoe Co., Richmond Cedar Works, Richmond Stove Works, Etchison Hat Co., Merchants' national bank.

Richmond's wholesale business includes dry goods, notions, millinery, boots, shoes, hats, caps, clothing, groceries, provisions, liquors, tobacco, drugs, hardware, seeds, stoves, tin, hides, leather, harness, saddlery, books, stationery, wooden ware, carpets, straw goods and many other lines.

Catoosa to Have New Jail.

Ringgold, Ga., September 7.—(Special.) The board of roads and revenues of Catoosa county have decided to build a new jail here and levied a tax for that purpose.

DIXIE BROUGHT OLD REBEL YELL

Five Hundred Editors Cheered the Southern Lyric.

Mr. Howell's Reference to Mob Violence Heartily Cheered—Letter Read From Joseph Pulitzer in Regard to Result in Vermont.

New York, September 7.—Nearly 500 democratic editors from all parts of the United States met at a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight, the occasion being a national conference of democratic editors, which was called at the instance of the democratic national committee.

The toast list included several of the best known democratic editors in the country, and all of them responded to toasts on political subjects.

Sylvanus E. Johnson, Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and a former president of the Gridiron Club, was the toastmaster.

A large orchestra furnished music during the dinner. When "Dixie" was played the diners, many of whom were from the south, jumped to their feet and the rebel yell was given several times. Enthusiasm was at the highest pitch when the selection was encored.

Colonel Johnson, in a brief speech, introduced Colonel Henry Watterson, who responded to the toast, "The Issue and the Outlook."

Herman Ridder followed with an address, giving reasons why independents should support Parker, saying the country needed a safe man in the presidential chair.

Letter From Pulitzer.

A letter from Joseph Pulitzer, written from Bar Harbor, Maine, to Chairman Daniels, in which the writer stated that physical infirmities prevented his being present, was read. The letter, in part, was as follows:

"The result in Vermont reported today should be accepted as a warning, not as a discouragement. Remember that the largest total vote ever cast in Vermont is onlyl 56,000. It is absurd to suppose that the result of the presidential election is decided, or even foreshadowed, in the fastnesses and farms of the little Green Mountain state. The contest is to be fought out in New York, the Empire state, whose habit it is to vote independently; in the rich and populous industrial cities of Connecticut and New Jersey; on the wide plains and in the busy marts of Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois, and in the doubtful states of the farther west. There are signs of a reaction against protection, privilege and plutocracy; against personal government, militarism, extravagance and the political power of the trust. Mr. Roosevelt's weakness as a candidate in his own state has been demonstrated at every election. Should he carry the country in November, as it is possible that he may, the adverse vote of New York would serve a salutatory check on his usurpation of power, and no effort should be spared to secure this result. Truth is mighty, but it will not prevail without all the aids of publicity. Truth must be proclaimed, illustrated, established, enforced. Most important of all, truth must have a leader.

Result in Vermont.

"The result of the Vermont election makes it, in my judgment, all the more imperative that Judge Parker shall realize and perform his duty to the millions of honest voters who seek no office, look for no personal gain in this election, but who see in him an ideal and a hope, and aspire to preserve through him the institutions they love. The people need a judicial chief magistrate, but not too judicial a candidate. The judge is trained to look at both sides of the case: the candidate should have his hands full in looking after his own. From a judge is expected cautious deliberation; from the candidate inspiration, energy, promptness and aggressive impulse. It is the part of a leader to lead in the combat of ideas, in the conflict of principles, in the denuncation of public wrongs, in the presentation and enforcement of truth.

"It is because I so strongly desire Judge Parker's election that I speak so plainly on this subject. I admire his judicial temperament. I appreciate the great personal sacrifices he has made in accepting the nomination. But having accepted it, I earnestly beg of you when you see him tomorrow at Esopus to urge that he accept also the full responsibilities of his position; that he will not permit the campaign in New York, the pivotal state, to be mismanaged by the small politicians who beset him; that he will in the next 60 days be even more than heretofore the 'peoples' leader and teacher, their tribune and advocate.

"Joseph Pulitzer."

Mr. Howell Cheered.

Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, spoke to the toast "Democratic Success the Guarantee of National Unity." Mr. Howell's reference to mob violence was vigorously cheered.

John B. Stoll, editor of the South Bend, (Ind.), Times responded to the toast, "Triumphant Democracy."

Andrew McLean, editor of the Brooklyn Citizen, closed the speechmaking when he responded to "The Democracy of the Empire State."

Parker Will Address.

Esopus, N. Y., September 7.—Judge Parker will make his first speech since his formal acceptance of the nomination at Rosemont tomorrow in the presence of the visiting editors of democratic newspapers. It will take the form of a reply to an address of greeting to be made by Charles W. Knapp, of St. Louis.

The editors are expected to arrive here from New York before noon. Judge Parker will speak from the veranda at Rosemount, and with the exception of the brief speeches, there will be nothing formal about the occasion.

Representative William M. Sulzer, of New York, was the only political visitor today. He called late in the afternoon, and spent the night at Rosemount.

Formed Law and Order League.

Columbus, Ga., September 7.—(Special.) At Seale, Ala., today a mass meeting of Russell county citizens was held and a law and order league formed for the enforcement of the liquor laws in that county. It is claimed that there has been many violations of these laws recently.

City Court of Griffin.

Griffin, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—The city court of Griffin is in session here this week with Judge E. W. Hammond presiding and Solicitor Joseph D Boyd conducting the prosecutions for the state. About fifteen cases have been tried, most of which have resulted in convictions. Curtis Smoot, a young white man, was convicted yesterday for selling "phosphate" and other goods on Sunday.

WATTERSON TRAINS GUNS ON THEODORE ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, September 7.—Henry Watterson, editor of The Louisville Courier-Journal, said in part:

In order to allay curiosity and suppress conjecture—or words to that effect—let me say in the beginning that I believe we can win this presidential battle. I will go even further and say that with anything like an even show-down of powder and ball it will be our own fault if we lose it. The two parties will go to the finish fairly united. Each will poll very nearly, if not quite, its normal strength. The independent vote, therefore, will decide the result.

In the five debatable states of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, in the east; Indiana and Wisconsin, in the west, there are, on a rough estimate, a million of these independent voters. Half a million of them are Germans. The other half are mugwumps and floaters. For the life of me I cannot see how any self-respecting mugwump can vote for Roosevelt, the recreant civil service reformer, nor how any intelligent German, much as the president resembles the kaiser, can be willing to take even a lottery chance in a war with the mother country, precipitated upon the drop of a hat, to glorify the administration.

Parker, the jurist, means peace with all nations, entangling alliance with none. Roosevelt, the war lord, means complications abroad and corruptions at home, designed to prolong a single party dynasty, and to perpetuate its favorites and agents in power. Every economic question must pause before an issue so transcendant.

In venturing to discuss it tonight, though surrounded by members of my own party and profession, may I not take a suppositious standpoint and declare that if I were a republican—and, over about the headwaters of Bitter creek, there are democrats who insist that I am not much better—I would vote for Parker and Davis and against Roosevelt and Fairbanks. Being only a plain American, who loves his country and clings to its institutions, I mean to do this anyhow. I shall do it because it seems to me the upright thing to do, the enlightened thing to do, the prudent and honest thing to do.

In spite of some excesses of feeling and mistakes of judgment, the democratic heart beats true to the essential principles of th erepublic as it was created by the sublime declaration and ordained by our incomparable constitution. In spite of their intelligence and energy, the republican leaders are losing sight of their fidelity to both. Even the errors of the democrats lean to virtue's side, whilst the very virtues of the republicans are beginning to be sickled o'er with the pale cast of corruption and absolutism. This is not because the democrats are democrats, or the republicans are republicans. The label has little to do with it. It is because the nature of long dominancy tends first to corruption, and then, threatened with exposure, to tyranny.

Watterson on Roosevelt.

Inevitably the personality, the character and performances of Theodore Roosevelt occupy the foremost place in the public mind. They will constitute the chief horn of the people's dilemma in the coming campaign. They are, as it were, the beginning and the end of the chapter. Yet, because we propose to discuss the president, and to hold him to a just measure of accountability, we are accused of abusing him. I would not, for my part, utter an unkind or discourteous word. I admit that he is as sweet a gentleman as ever scuttled a ship or cut a throat. Indeed, very much that kind of a gentleman, for, hoisting the black flag over the south, he has scuttled the ship of civil service reform and cut the throat of reciprocity. Has he ever obeyed the law in case it stood in the way of his humor, from the time when, over the acquitting report of his own commission, he removed a state's attorney from the office to which the people had elected him, here in the city and county of New York, to the time when, by a scratch of his pen, he usurped the power of congress and added many millions of outlay to the pension rolls? Is he not responsible for the fly-by-night theatrical combination miscalled the republic of Panama? Was his treatment of Miles and Schley the act of a wise or considerate president? Was his promotion of Wood just either to the army or the people? Was his proceeding in the postal scandals not a shuffle designed to supprehs, whilst seeming to expose? Were his operations against the Northern Securities not the merest play to the galleries, achieving, thus far, nothing beyond the throwing of a little dust into the eyes of unthinking people? Does not his whole career, illustrated by his writings, his sayings and his doings—his heedless criticisms, his spectacular exploitations, his broken promises—reveal to us a self-willed adventurer upon the high seas of public life, having no rudder or compass except his own ambition, no principle or rule of conduct save that of decking the machine with the flounces and furbelows of civic righteousness, whilst violating the spirit and sacrificing the actualities of the civil service by a line of partisan appointments to office never surpassed during the worst times of the spoils system he has so stigmatized and exemplified? Was Jackson, whose ignorance he rebukes, more personal and autocratic than he is himself? Was Grant, whom, in life, he persistently antagonized, more indifferent to the admonitions of public sentiment? And if we have seen such things in the green leaf, what may we not expect to see in the brown? If elected president in 1904, why not again in 1908? The tradition broken, what may not be the possibilities in 1912?

Dreads One Man Power.

As a republican I would take no such risks; as an American, I shall not. I dread the one-man power. Still more, I dread the one-party power; absolutism at length barricading itself against the reach of the people; the opposition thoroughly debauched, and, because of its demoralization and impotency, only a degree less corrupt than the autocracy; the government a close corporation of organized interests, slowly but surely breeding caste distinction; our public men a race of Medecian princes, without the learning or the arts of Florence; the old, free system of Washington and Franklin and Jefferson, a very syndicate of wealth and officialism; a republic only in name; a world power in fact, more imperial in its aggressions and resplendency than Rome itself.

If we want these things, let us, by all means, elect Theodore Roosevelt. Let us destroy all healthful and responsible opposition. Let us construct an irresistible power at Washington. Let us relegate conservatism to the rear. Let us bring to the front only socialism to fight with absolutism a battle which, no matter how it ends, is bound to be dangerous to the liberties of the people and the peace of the country. Already the republican press is making a hero of Tom Watson, the coming Robespierre; haranguing the sections and preparing the way for another reign of terror, by and with the advice, consent and sustenance of the republican national committee.

Behind Theodore Roosevelt stands a group of radical republican leaders, ready to do his bidding. If the predecessors of these radical leaders had been given their way after the war of sections, we should, at this moment, have in the south another Ireland, a second Poland. Wherever they have had their way, from old Ben Wade to Henry Cabot Lodge and Theodore Roosevelt, we have seen higher taxes, renewed sectional disturbances, total disregard of the written law and the constant menace of force. After forty-three years of but twice broken dominion, this party oligarchism is proceeding with as high a hand under Theodore Roosevelt, as, after but a little longer dominion, the democratic party proceeded, under Pierce and Buchanan, and from the same cause, the belief that it has the world in a sling and may do as it pleases.

Public opinion needs to rise upon its hind legs and kick the stuffing out of it; at least to kick it into a realizing sense that there is something yet greater than money and partyism and patronage; that the machine is not invincible; that there are yet a people; that there is still a God.

Another Tilden has arrived upon the scene, and fittingly here in the Empire State of New York, a very tribute of the people, calm, resolute and qualified, in all things the exact antithesis of Theodore Roosevelt, and in my belief, as surely as Tilden was elected, he will be elected. And, when elected, he will be inaugurated and all will be well.

Scott-West.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., September 7.—(Special.)—A wedding of much interest to the many friends of the contracting parties, both in the south and northwest, occurred here today at noon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Scott, 631 Shepard avenue, at which hour Miss Myrtice Scott, of Milwaukee, was married to Mr. Henry Francis West, of Atlanta. The bride is well known in her native home, Atlanta, where she resided until a few years ago, when the family moved to Milwaukee. She is a young lady possessing all the noble traits of splendid womanhood, besides being very handsome and accomplished.

Mr. West is a native of Atlanta and enjoys a large acquaintance, all of which accord him a position for probity of character and unusual business ability. He served during the administrations of Governor Atkinson and Governor Candler as commissary general of the state, with the rank of lieutenant colonel, and received high praise for his efficient work. He was for quite a while paymaster for the Atlanta and West Point railroad, is a member of the firm of A. J. West & Co, one of the largest real estate establishments in the south.

The ceremony was performed in an impressive and beautiful manner by the Rev. Mr. Bumpers, of St. Mark Episcopal church. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Frederick Myers Scott.

Mr. Hugh M. Dorsey, of Atlanta, acted as best man; Miss Mae Scott maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Nell Howell, of Atlanta; Miss Edyth Fuller and Miss Enid Scott; the groomsmen being Mr. Fred M. Scott, Jr., Mr. Walter Greene and Mr. Fitzhugh Scott.

The handsome residence on Lake Michigan was beautifully decorated and appropriate music was rendered on the violin, harp and flute. Many costly and beautiful presents came from Atlanta, Milwaukee and other sections.

Immediately after the ceremony an elegant wedding breakfast was served.

Among the prominent people from a distance was General West and Miss Genie West, father and sister of the groom; Miss Nell Howell, one of Atlanta's most charming young ladies, and Colonel Hugh M. Dorsey, a distinguished lawyer of Atlanta.

After a bridal tour of two weeks, Mr and Mrs. West will be with their father and mother, General and Mrs. A. J. West, 789 Peachtree street, and about October 1 will begin housekeeping at the corner of Peachtree and Seventh streets, Atlanta.

THOMAS-JOHNSTON.

Athens, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Today at noon, at the residence of the bride's parents, Captain and Mrs. William W. Thomas, on Milledge avenue, occurred the marriage of Miss Isabel Thomas to Mr. Richard W. Johnston, of Macon. The wedding was a home affair, only the father of Mr. Johnston and the immediate family of the bride being present.

The parlors of Captain Thomas' elegant home were beautifully decorated with palms and pink roses. Rev. Troy Beatty, rector of Emmanuel church, preceded the bride and groom into the parlor, where the marriage ceremony was performed. The bride, attired in white chiffon trimmed with lace and handmade ribbon roses, and carrying a shower bouquet of bride roses, entered upon the arm of the groom, and by the rites of the Episcopal church they were declared man and wife. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston received the congratulations of those present, and then left for a short bridal trip. Although the announcement of the wedding was made but a few days since, there were numerous elegant presents. The present of the groom was a diamond necklace.

Mrs. Johnston was one of the most beautiful and gracious of the young women of this city.

TOWNS-RANDOLPH.

Athens, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—This afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, at the residence of the mother of the bride, Mrs. Alice M. Towns, on Grand avenue, occurred the marriage of Miss Mae Towns to James E. Randolph, Jr., of Jefferson, Rev. H. F. Branham, of Jefferson, officiating. The wedding was witnessed by only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. The parlor in which the wedding occurred was a dream of beauty in palms, ferns and roses. A delightful luncheon was served to the bridal party preceding the wedding. Mr. Randolph is one of the leading young business men of Jefferson, and his bride was one of the most charming and accomplished young daughters of the Classic City. They will make their future home in Jefferson, leaving for that place this afternoon, after receiving the hearty congratulations of their many friends.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS AT PEACE.

Meeting Will Be Held Next Monday Night in Council Chamber.

Harmony reigns in the ranks of the Young Men's Democratic League.

The annual meeting of the league will be held next Monday night and the friends and supporters of William T. Newman, Jr., will be on hand and thoroughly in harmony with the organization.

It was decided yesterday, in the interest of harmony, that the request for a meeting Thursday night be withdrawn, it having been learned that President Bell had already called a meeting for Monday night.

For a time it appeared that there would be a serious split in the ranks of the league, but those who attended the caucus Tuesday night agreed that the call for next Monday night was satisfactory. There is every indication that Mr. Newman will be elected president to succeed Madison Bell.

WAS CHARGED WITH SHOOTING

Walter Cooper Arrested on Charge of Shooting Negro Last Year.

Walter Cooper, brother of Colonel John R. Cooper, one of the leading criminal lawyers of central Georgia, was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Doyal, on a warrant from Sheriff Martin, of Gwinnett county, charging Cooper with shooting at a negro last year at Lawrenceville.

Cooper was placed in a cell at police headquarters, and was later called for by Sheriff Martin. He gave a $200 bond for his appearance.

Cooper is associated with the National Brokerage company of Atlanta, his brother, J. C. Cooper being president of the concern.

Walter Cooper, in speaking of the cause leading to his arrest, said that while he was at Lawrenceville some time ago, he became engaged in a personal encounter with a negro. He asserted that he hit the negro over the head several times with his pistol, and his weapon discharged.

THEY LAUGHED

At the Arguments on the Packages.

The husband of an Ohio woman brought home some packages of Grape-Nuts one evening and there was much discussion, but let her tell the story.

"Two years ago I was thin and sickly and suffered so from indigestion, was very nervous, and could not sleep at night. I was not able physically or mentally to perform my duties and was constantly under the care of our physician. I had tried plain living and all the different remedies recommended by friends, but got no better.

"One day my husband brought home two yellow boxes and said: 'The grocer wants us to try this food and report how we like it, he thinks it will help you.' I read all it said on the boxes about Grape-Nuts, and I remember how I laughed at it, for I thought it foolish to think food could help me. But the next meal we all ate some with cream. We liked and enjoyed the deliciously crisp and new flavor, so we kept on using Grape-Nuts, not because we thought it would cure me, but because we liked it.

"At that time we had no idea what the results would be, but now I am anxious to have the world know that today I am a well and strong woman physically and mentally. I gained over 30 pounds, do not suffer from any of the old ails, and I know that it is to Grape-Nuts alone that I owe my restored health. They call me 'Grape-Nuts' here in the home and all of my friends have asked me the cause of it all. I have persuaded several of them to use Grape-Nuts and every one of them who has done so has been benefited, and I wish it were in my power to induce everyone who is sick to give this wonderful food a trial. We still have Grape-Nuts three times a day and never tire of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days on this nourishing and completly digestible food will show anyone who is run down from improper feeding a great change, sometimes worth more than a gold mine, because it may mean the joy and spring of perfect health in place of the old ails. Trial proves. "There's a reason."

DAVIS SPEAKS AT STATE FAIR

Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee Talks of Agriculture.

Wheeling, W. Va., September 7.—An immense crowd attended the West Virginia state fair at Morgan's Grove this afternoon, the occasion being the presence of ex-Senator Henry G. Davis, the democratic vice presidential nominee, who was scheduled to make a non-political address.

Senator Davis, accompanied by National Committeeman John T. McGraw and John J. Cornwell, the democratic candidate for governor, left Wheeling for the fair grounds about 1 o'clock, arriving an hour later. The senator was enthusiastically received when he entered the grounds, and when he arose to speak he was heartily cheered.

Abstract of Speech.

In the course of a short talk on agriculture, Senator Davis referred to this as man's natural occupation, and the most important and useful to mankind. The agriculturist has always been found in the advance guard of the march of civilization, he said.

Nearly all who worked and fought for our independence and liberty were tillers of the soil; nearly all of our early presidents had been farmers; the majority of our successful men of today have come from the farms; farmers as a class are a liberty loving people. Agriculture started England on the high road to prosperity and the commercial supremacy which she has maintained in the world for five hundred years. Agricultural products feed us at home and pay most of our foreign debts. Between 60 and 70 per cent of all our exports are from the farm.

The total value of all these farm products of the United States in 1903 were $4,000,000,000, or about four times the value of all our mineral products. The value of the corn crop was about equal to the entire mineral production.

Our government expends annually for the war department $121,000,000 and for agriculture $5,000,000, over twenty times more for war than for agriculture, and the farmers pay a larger share of taxes than any other occupation. There has been a most gratifying increase in the agricultural interest in West Virginia. In 1882 there were 82,624 farms; in 1900 the number increased to 92,874, an increase of more than 50 per cent. In 1880 we had 3,800,000 acres in farms; in 1900 5,500,000 acres, an increase of 45 per cent. The average acreage of our farms decreased from 162 in 1880 to 114 in 1900. The value of our farm property increased from $154,000,000 in 1880 to $204,000,000 in 1900, an increase of 33 per cent. The value of our farm products annually is about $50,000,000. When I was a member of the United States senate I made a speech calling attention to the neglect of the agricultural interest by the national government, and on my motion a bill passed the senate making the agricultural bureau a department.

The farmer can live well and proper without the towns or cities, but the people of the towns and cities would soon starve if the farmer does not feed them.

THEATERS.

Tim Murphy, who comes to the Grand Friday and Saturday, is fortunate in the possession of two great successes this season. The plays are a romantic comedy in three acts: "Two Men and a Girl," by the celebrated actor, Frederick Paulding, and "When a Man Marries," a satirical comedy by A. C. Bishop.

Mr. Murphy is appreciated by the public, who regard him as the foremost exponent on the stage of American character and humor.

There are some very clever people, some very clever lines, and some very clever "business" in the production of "A Midnight Marriage," the bill that is scoring so well at the Bijou this week. Last night's audience was larger than on Tuesday, and it really seems that the play is growing better. In all the company is quite a capable organization, and the play is being well received.

There will be matinee and evening performances today.

"Alone in the World," the latest and claimed to be one of the best of Hal Reid's plays, comes to the Bijou next week. The action of the piece opens in New Orleans and the levee scene shown in the first act is a very natural water effect.

The management of the Grand announces for an early attraction that popular German dialect comedian, Al H Wilson, and he comes in the romantic play, "The Watch on the Rhine."

During the action of the play Mr. Wilson sings six new and catchy songs: "My Own Sweet German Rose," "The Voice of the Storm," "Johnny in the Army," and "Naughty Naughty," which have already become immensely popular.

GREAT BELDAME WON WITH EASE

Ort Wells Badly Beaten in September Stakes.

Favorite Finished Bad Third in the Sheepshead Bay Feature—Winning Filly Had Running All Own Way—Grayiallo Second.

New York, September 7.—Beldame, the great 3-year-old filly, won the September stakes, mile and three-fourths, at Sheepshead Bay today. She made practically all the running and won with ease. Ort Wells was decisively beaten, finishing a bad third, Graziallo finished second. In the opinion of many horsemen Beldame's easy victory today places her in a class by herself.

Tradition, the 1 to 2 favorite in the Belles stake, stumbled after the start and Lyne, her rider, lost both of his stirrups, but managed to regain them during the running and brought the filly home a winner by a short head. The world's record for 6½ furlongs, 1:18 2-5, was equaled in the first race.

FIRST RACE—Six and a half furlongs on main track: Martinmas, 90 (Kunz), 4 to 1, won; Armenia, 102 (Hildebrand), 13 to 10, second; Adriutha, 108 (Burns), 25 to 1, third. Time, 1:18 2-5. New York, Gold Money, Austin Allen, Topic and Toscan ran.

SECOND RACE—The Belles, last 5½ furlongs of futurity course: Tradition, 125 (Lyne), 1 to 2, won; Handzarra, 107 (Hoffler), 6 to 1, second; Linda Lee, 100 (W. Davis), 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:06 1-5. Heart's Desire, Iota, Fancy Dress and Dorothy Gray ran.

FOURTH RACE the September, mile and three furlongs—Beldame, 123, (O'Neil), 6 to 5, won; Graziallo, 122 (Hildebrand), 15 to 1, second; Ort Wells, 126 (Lyne), 4 to 5, third. Time, 2:19 3-5. Ocean Tide ran.

FIFTH RACE, one mile—Sir Lynnewood, 112 (Lyne), 21 to 1, won; Spring Silk, 112 (Odom), 5 to 1, second; Phantom, 109 (Hildebrand), 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 1-5. Lady Prudence, Patagonian, Trouville, William Pidgeon, Silver Foot, Top Right, Clovis, Louis H., Nuit Blanche, Ben Crockett, Rosie Dinham and Princess Atheling ran.

SIXTH RACE, selling, mile and sixteenth, on turf—Mabel Richardson, 98 (W. Davis), 11 to 5, won; Little Em, 96 (Hildebrand), 8 to 1, second; Grey Friar, 103 (W. Fisher, 16 to 5, third. Time, 1:46 1-5. Liberia, Prince Ching, Homestead, Dimple and Toi San ran. Jane Holly fell.

CHRONIC SORES

Wheeling, W. Va., May 28, 1903.

Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both of my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life, and that if they were healed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to entirely cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated, nor have the sores ever broke out again. Some 12 years have elapsed since what I have described occurred. Having been so signally benefitted by its use I can heartily recommend it as the one great blood purifier.

JOHN W. FUNDIS.

Care Schmulback Brewing Co.

Chronic sores start often from a pimple, scratch, bruise or boil, and while salves, washes and powders are beneficial, the unhealthy matter in the blood must be driven out or the sore will continue to eat and spread. S. S. S. reaches these old sores through the blood, removes all impurities and poisons, builds up the entire system and strengthens the circulation. S. S. S. is a blood purifier and tonic combined. Contains no mineral whatever but is guaranteed purely vegetable. If you have an old sore write us and our physicians will advise without charge. Book on diseases of the Blood free.

Games Played Today.

Atlanta in Nashville.

In two rattling fast and sensational games of ball the Crackers took revenge upon Newt and his family by defeating the Fishermen in both ends of the double-header yesterday afternoon.

Manager Powell surprised the fans by running in an unknown at the last moment. The new comer, graced by a heavy mustache which concealed his features from the view of the public, held the center of the stage, and came near to pitching a no hit game against the visitors.

Two measly hits, however, spoiled the glory of such an event. One was a safety, almost a Texas leaguer, while the other was a hot one sent at the mustached individual's feet, which met those feet in its flight and then carromed off to third base. Whitey and Bernie were after it in a moment, but Morse was the picker-up. He sent it to first a trifle wild and the man was safe. The throw was made from a difficult position and a hit was chalked up.

The newcomer bears the euphonic name of Dwyer. He comes from Waycross, Georgia, arriving in Atlanta yesterday in time to go in for the first game. He had perfect control, was full of confidence in his own ability. Dwyer has a number of puzzling curves, and in playing an important part in his assortment, and he backs these curves up with considerable speed.

Fans Growl at Umpire.

Owing to this puzzling curve balls, which looked like strikes to those in the bleachers, were called balls by Latham and, consequently, the fans were continually roasting the umpire. This habit of calling the umpire names of various sorts and hissing his work is puerile. Yesterday, all things considered, Latham's work was good and few important decisions were missed. And still the fans persist in doing the gander act, and yelling out strikes for balls from their vantage point in the bleachers and the smoker.

Powell Corners Pitchers.

It is all off with the other managers now. Manager Powell has gone after the twirlers while they were in the market, and now he has a collection of every sort and kind. If you want a lean one, he will be ready, the fat are already represented, the mustached individuals were recently added to the collection.

Twelve pitchers are on the Crackers' staff. There is McMakin, Smith, Hardy, Ely, McCay, Wright, Bayne, Welsh, Childs, Rucker, Dwyer and Minnehan. Minnehan may not report, as it is stated that he has malaria and does not desire to come south. Manager Powell has secured, however, Bayne, of Macon; Welsh, of Savannah, and Childs, of Charleston.

CROP ACCOUNTS POOR FROM TEXAS

Was Responsible for a Steady Tone in Cotton.

WEATHER WAS A STAND OFF

Showers Along the Atlantic Coast Offset by Favorable Conditions Elsewhere—Market Closed 7 to 22 Points Higher—Receipts Heavy.

New York, September 7.—The cotton market opened at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points, or a shade better than due on the Liverpool cables, so far as futures in that market were concerned, although the effect of the losses in the speculative market was offset to some exten with sales of 8,000 bales. Sentiment here seemed considerably mixed. It was feared that the decline in the Liverpool futures market had been engineered by a large American bear interest, and that it was the forerunner of a sharp attack on local prices. But there seemed to be no very aggressive selling at the opening. On the other hand, there was a fair demand through brokers believed to be operating for New Orleans interests and prices during the morning showed more irregularity than any distinct tendency either way. The weather was considered as favoring neither side specially, the showers along the Atlantic coast being offset by favorable conditions elsewhere, except for reports of rains in Texas, while the movement, though expanding, presented no feature of more than ordinary interest. Around midday, however, the market became more active and rather excited as a result of a sudden spurt of covering of September, and that position shot up about 24 points above last night's prices, carrying the rest of the list about 12 to 13 points higher. This buying quickly subsided and prices reacted about 10 points from the best, but later were rallied again by a renewal of New Orleans buying, and the market, while finally down from the top on the general list, was steady at a net gain of 7@22 points. Sales were estimated at 450,000. Lower Wall street was thought to be selling during the morning, but in the afternoon was credited with covering in a quiet way, while brokers with New Orleans connections were outspokenly bullish on the poor crop accounts coming in from private sources in Texas.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, September 7.—Spot cotton in good demand; sales 2,150, including 1,100 to arrive. Prices declined 1-8c.

Futures opened steady and 4@6 points lower. Soon after the opening a buying movement was inaugurated and prices advanced until they were about 10 points above the opening level. Near the middle of the session the market became very dull and prices eased off from 5@7 points and closed quiet, the list showing net gains of 3@6 points.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, September 7.—The feature of the day in the dry goods market has been the decline of 3-4c in the prices of certain prominent lines of staple ginghams. This cut should not affect the general market, as it simply indicates a weak condition which has been in evidence a long time. General domestic buying is conservative. Jobbers are still fairly active.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

COTTON—With the decline in Liverpool, our market opened quite steady, and sagged off while the foreign market advanced, until the selling being exhausted and the demand continuing, prices were advanced quite sharply, and were held at midday. General business is very limited. The heavy receipts at Houston and Galveston are without effect and enter at once into consumption. The fluctuations today appear due to the recent bull interest—turned so quickly bear—and the leading spot interests, which have been the buyers. The business, therefore, has been local in cause and effect.

Cothran & Co.

COTTON—After a break and a sharp recovery of 20 or 30 points you can be pretty sure the rally will about all disappear before the market is any good. This is what happened and from all accounts the market is now in pretty good shape. After selling at 10.30 and 10.25 on Friday and reacting to about 10.60 yesterday the market for December was around 10.30 and 10.35 early today. Then it was found that prices refused to go any lower. For some reason large lots were sold in an effort to get the list lower, but there was no hammering the market. Prices would not go down, and when the large traders found this out there was nothing to do but to get back the cotton. The buying put December up above 10.50 easily. Reports from Texas are not good. When the Washington people say the Texas yield is below the average you can make up your mind we are not going to be swamped with cotton this year. As long as the frost question has yet to be decided there is not going to be much risk in buying cotton after such a break as this. Prices are really not high for the present.

WHEAT—Under the stimulus of higher cables and bad crop reports from the northwest prices worked up on all the futures, the strength in corn also proving a bull help, some of the large local operators as well as the pit scalpers espousing the bull side. The northwest markets were strong. There was buying that looked like Patten, while Armour was ostensibly selling May and buying December. It is possible that enough inspiration may be injected into the market from the northwest to create further advances, but we doubt if they can hold, as large local lines will be for sale, and we certainly cannot advise purchases around present levels; in fact, on hard spots we would favor sales.

CORN—There was a good demand for samples. There was influential buying of December, but more especially May, with shorts covering freely, although on the advances some of the large traders sold. Sentiment was rather bullish on what was regarded as unfavorable weather for the crop generally, and all in al it could be put down as a weather market. On dips we would favor purchases.

OATS were very heavy on the bearish reports, including a large increase east of the Rockies that helped to start liquidation, while hedging sales on December and May were bearish factors. Rallies may appear, but the trade in oats is evry much depressed at present.

PROVISIONS—The principal feature was the buying of October lard, thought to be for Cudahy or Swift with commission houses buying January, lard pork and ribs acting weak. There was only a fair-sized trade with the belief prevailing, however, that all kinds of product will work lower.

STOCKS—The stock market this afternoon, after eary heavy realizing, began to show signs of hesitation, and we think it open to attack more than for some time, and would be governed accordingly in our operations. The best plan will be to await developments, which may be of a character that will bring about selling by the professionals and the removal of support temporarily by the insiders. Should this occur of course the list is in a position to gradually recede 2 or 3 points on the average, judging from the distribution that has taken place. We are not bullish on Metropolitan, as before stated, and there may be another attack on that stock.

The Howell Jones Co.

COTTON—There was an easy opening in cotton today and first prices were unchanged to 5 points lower. This action was sympathetic with operations in the English market, the latter being rather weak. Bear interests appeared to be offering considerable cotton, but the shorts lacked nerve and there was quite a good deal of scattered covering. The demand from this source was enough to arrest the weakness and at times the general market ruled fairly steady. There were reports of buying for the account of southern interests and such reports served to increase confidence of holders. There was also a fair demand through commission houses. The weather conditions were about a stand off, showing favorable conditions in the west, and contined showers in east and along the coast. The movement continued heavy and estimates for arrivals in the near future ran very high. Stocks in some instances were reported to be increasing and the spot demand slow, spinners being indifferent. The strike news was unimportant. Foreign private cables were mixed, but in some cases there were good clearances of export. The late market was nervous.

WHEAT—There was a better tone in the wheat market today. Pit traders were on the buying side, and this element appeared to have recovered from its bearish tendencies of late. The conditions were mostly bullish. There was further crop damage news from the northwest, although climatic conditions were improved. Cables were stronger and the foreign situation, as a whole, was more favorable to the longs. The world's visible supply increased largely, but other statistics, including contract stocks, were bullish. There was a better demand for flour in the northwest, and they bought a little. Country offerings were somewhat smaller. Indications pointed to a continued firm market.

CORN—There was a better tone in the corn pit. Liberal receipts were discounted, and the firmer cables and a good cash demand were in favor of the longs. Country offerings were fair. The offerings were only moderate and profit taking sales late in the day did not attract much attention.

OATS—Oats were firm. Receipts were small. Bull interests bought May oats for a long pull.

PROVISIONS—October product was sold liberally by pit traders. The trade otherwise appeared to be bullish, and a firm tone prevailed.

Miller & Co.

COTTON—After a long period of one-man power the market seems now clearly divided into two strong opposing groups. On the last decline the leading southern operators were bearish, but today they have turned about and are now looking for higher prices. It is generally believed that the local bear leader is heavily short of the market and may have to cover at higher prices than the present level. The decline in Liverpool this morning was attributed to his selling for the purpose of breaking prices further here. At the decline of about 7 points which our market suffered during the early morning, the attempt to depress prices met stubborn resistance and offerings were promptly absorbed. As the people who are now buying futures are closely identified with the spot business, it is naturally concluded that the offerings of spot cotton are not equal to the immediate or prospective demand. Hence the change of front to the bull side by the element most closely in touch with the situation in the interior. Crop reports of a very unsatisfactory nature continue to come in, but we are not looking so much at that as we are at the possibilities of a check to the movement in the crop. Rains have been general along the coast, and in portions of Texas, naturally retarding picking. If the West Indian storm should move into the gulf, geenral rains would follow, causing serious interruption to picking and marketing. It follows from this that the situation for the American future depends largely upon weather, and it will pay our friends well to watch the chances of rain from day to day. Large shorts in September, alarmed over the disappointing movement, covered freely and caused that month to close 22 points higher, while the later positions are only 6 to 7 points above last night.

WHEAT—The wheat news, especially from the norhwest, has been bullish. Receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth are running much under last year in spite of the fact that the harvest through large portions of South Dakota and Minnesota was completed three weeks ago and farmers have had the incentive of unusually high prices to market wheat. Threshing returns come slowly, but so far seem to verify previous damage reports. The report has been generally circulated that Armour has been a buyer of wheat today and this has added somewhat to the price, although we have been unable to find any foundation for the rumor. Quite large flour sales at St. Louis have been regarded as bullish factors.

CORN—Cash corn drags. The only demand is to fill September and we are about 2 cents above export basis. May corn was comparatively strong on commission house buying based on cool weather and fear of frost.

OATS—Oats are dull and featureless, some commission house buying on the price, but was met by a steady stream of hedging sales from cash houses.

PROVISIONS dull and featureless.

NEWS WAS OF A BULLISH AVERAGE

Wheat Strong on Bullish Situation in the Northwest.

SCORED A CENT ADVANCE

Later Eased Off and Closed 3-8 to 1-2c Up for December—Corn 1-8c Higher—Oats 1-8c Off—Provisions Were Very Little Changed.

Chicago, September 7.—An improved demand for flour at Minneapolis was one of the principal causes for a firm wheat market here today. December closed 3-8@1-2c higher, corn 1-8c up, oats off 1-4c and provisions 2 1-2c higher to 5@7 1-2c lower.

Wheat opened firm on higher cables and continued reports of damage in the northwest, December being up a shade to 1-4@3-8c at $1.06 1-2@1.06 3-4. The early trading was light, but toward noon some good buying developed. One of the principal operators was credited with buying both December and May through commission houses, while selling December openly. Favorable weather throughout the greater part of the country was responsible for much of the early selling. As the session advanced the market became quite strong under the influence of a bullish situation in the northwest. An improved demand for flour at Minneapolis caused a rally here and helped the speculative trading. St. Louis also reported a better demand for flour, sales of 10,000 barrels being made there. Primary receipts were smaller than a year ago. There was some buying on an official estimate of the total French crop, the figures being placed at 292,000,000 bushels. Stimulated by these bullish influences, December advanced to $1.07 1-2, later, however, losing part of the gain on realizing and closing firm at $1.06 7-8. The Clearances equaled 125,900 bushels. The visible supply increased 3,978,000 bushels. Primary receipts 827,500 bushels, against 1,741,800 a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported 421 cars, against 294 last week and 863 a year ago.

Higher cables and strength of wheat was responsible for a firm tone in corn. The feature of the trading was heavy buying by commission houses, supposed to be acting for a leading provision interest. General favorable weather held the market in check. December opened unchanged to 1-8c higher at 51 3-4@51 7-8c, sold between 51 3-4@52 1-8c and closed at 51 7-8c. Receipts 783 cars, 44 contract.

A heavy increase in the visible supply had a depressing influence on oats. Business was fairly large. December opened a shade to 1-8c higher at 33@33 1-8c and sold off to 32 5-8c, closing at 32 3-4. Receipts 304 cars.

The feature in provisions was a moderate foreign demand for lard. Prices showed little change throughout the day, October pork closing unchanged at $10.92 1-2, lard 2 1-2c higher at $7.10 and ribs off 5@7 1-2 at $7.27 1-2@7.30.

Estimated tomorrow: Wheat 74 cars, corn 466 cars, oats 100 cars, hogs 16,000 head.

COTTON—The cotton market opened easier this morning on the lower cables from abroad and the more favorable weather existing over the cotton belt. At the opening selling for prominent Wall street operators, who had previously been inclined to the bull side, carried the list down averaging 5 points, but here, support by Wall street and heavy buying by December by a prominent Philadelphia spot house strengthened the market and helped pull the list out of the early weakness. The reported resuming operations by several New England mills, which heretofore were closed down by lack of demand, had stimulating effect upon sentiment. Spinners, who up to the present time, had refrained from entering the market as free purchasers of cotton, excepting that required for immediate needs, are now buying freely, realizing that cotton is as cheap now as it will be for some time to come, and despite the outlook for a good crop, they are loath to take any risk on the idea of the crop being above 12,000,000 bales on account of the danger of serious damage to the crop before maturity. They are therefore buying freely and eager to purchase at present prices. We will consider cotton a purchase at present figures.

WHEAT—After a hesitating start wheat strengthened under the lead of the Minneapolis markets and the strength of all markets abroad. Offerings were scant and the shorts found difficulty in securing wheat to fill contracts. While the wheateh was clear, the temperatures were unseasonable, and if continued, would result in damage to the balance of the wheat left uninjured by the rust. The northwestern crowd under Watson were the chief buyers, taking principally May, with the trade showing a disposition to work over into the December option. Cash markets were also stronger and the decreased movement in the southwest added to the general strength. On the whole, there was less pressure of long wheat on the market, and shorts were disposed to cover in the absence of favorable news.

CORN—The market opened firm and later advanced with wheat and on the low temperatures existing throughout the belt. Shorts were the principal takers, but cash interests and the trade bought moderately of December. The outlook for a big corn crop is good, and barring some unforseen calamity, will be one of the largest on record. We look for lower prices for corn, and think the market a sale at present figures.

OATS were firm and advanced fractionally with corn. Trading was quiet with the surrounding markets their influence.

L. J. Anderson & Co.

COTTON—Liverpool on the opening was slightly lower than was due for futures this morning. At the close options were 7 to 9 points down, while spot was 10 points higher at 6.60; sales 8,000 bales. New York opened unchanged to a point lower, following Liverpool, though opening figures were near the lowest of the day. In the afternoon prices reached the highest point, being some 10 to 28 points above opening figures. The advance was attributed to shorts covering and moderate support by the bulls. The weather was favorable in the west and unfavorable in the east. Crop reports are decidedly worse, and it is claimed a big crop scare is in sight. Crop estimates for Texas are being reduced materially, some claiming that state will make less than last season. The New England mills are resuming work, and already spinners are purchasing supplies moderately. The extreme advance was not maintained, the close showing an advance of 22 points for September, the later months being 5 to 7 points up. Receipts are liberal, amounting to 20,113 for the day, against 8,091 last year. So far for the week 80,915, against 20,538 last year.

WHEAT—Trading was small in wheat. The market opened under the influence of continued bullish northwest advices; and, while the weather was favorable, prices were a shade to 1-4 to 3-8c higher at $1.06 1-2 to 1.06 3-4. On the northwest news, including some improvement i nthe demand for flour, an advance to $1.07 1-2 took place, but profit taking was heavy on the high point and prices slipped off 5-8c to $1.06 7-8, where it closed 3-8 to 1-2c higher. Primary receipts 827,500 bushels, against 1,741,800 last year. Clearances 125,900 bushels wheat and flour. The world's visible supplly increased 3,978,000 bushels.

CORN—A firm tone prevailed in corn, due to a good cash demand. Offerings were light, with shorts and commission houses fair bidders. The weather was fair, but was without eect, being offset by higher cables and the strength in wheat. December closed 1-8c up at 51 7-8c.

OATS—The market was firm in sympathy with corn, and support by bull leaders. A practical early advance was later lost as a result of a heavy increase in the visible supply. December closed 1-8c lower at 32 3-4c.

PROVISIONS—Trading was light in provisions, but the tone was steady. There was a moderate foreign demand for lard. At the close October product was 2 1-2c higher to 5 to 7 1-2c lower.

THE PACIFICS WERE UNDER PRESSURE

Their Subsequent Decline Proved of Decisive Effect on Market.

READING WAS ALSO WEAK

The Iron and Steel Stocks Developed Considerable Strength—Reaction Was in Force at the Closing, Which Was Heavy.

New York, September 7.—The advocates of higher prices for stocks met less encouragement from the action of today's market than from that of yesterday. There was as little news to account for the reaction as there was to explain the advance. The volume of dealings was well up to that of yesterday, but the buying of stocks from outside sources and through commission houses or selling was as little in evidence as at any time during the current period of activity. The conclusion was general that the dealings are largely due to the operations of parties of speculators or of large individual traders who make an avocation of such operations. The pressure to take profits in the Pacifics was quite urgent. Their subsequent decline proved of decisive effect. This influence was forced by the evidence of the same process going on in Reading after its recent large gain. Even the local tractions, which made buoyant advances on the compromise of the labor dispute which threatened their operation, encountered realizing sales. In the railroad list, efforts to contest the reaction were rather ineffectual. In a section of the industrial list, however, a considerable degree of strength developed. and served as a partial offset to the heaviness in the railroad list. The iron and steel stocks were most conspicuous in this movement. Conflicting influences kept prices moving irregularly all day. The reaction was in force at the closing, which was heavy.

The bond market continued broad and was generally firm. Total sales, par value, $5,460,000.

Another Collier Land Sale

We announce an Auction Sale of the remaining Peachtree Frontage of the Collier Land, to take place on next

Wednesday, Sept. 14th, at 3:30 O'Clock

This sale will wind up the Collier Property, as far as Peachtree frontage is concerned. The history of the Collier Land as "Acreage" is now closed; henceforward it will be known as "Lots." Divided among many individual owners whose diversified tastes will lead to a variety of improvements, the work of enhancement will go on.

The April Sale demonstrated to a finish the immense demand for this property. In response to that demand, on next Wednesday we throw upon the market all the remaining lots; each lot to be sold strictly upon its merits to the highest bidder, without any limit:—An honest, old-style, fair and square auction sale.
